Getting to Luke

DIRECTIONS

Located 20 miles northwest of downtown Phoenix and nine miles west of downtown Glendale, Luke is accessible by any mode of transportation.

By automobile, take Litchfield Road, exit 128, north from Interstate 10 (west of Phoenix), or take Glendale Avenue west from Interstate 17 (north of Phoenix). From Loop 101 head west on Glendale road. Luke is at the intersection of Glendale Avenue and Litchfield Road.

By air, you will arrive at Sky Harbor International Airport, south of Phoenix. Taxi and limousine charges to Luke can run as high as $50, but a “super shuttle” service is available at more reasonable fare. Cost for the first person is about $20; each additional person is only $5.

LOCATION

Centrally located in the Valley of the Sun, Luke is within easy driving distance of numerous recreational and sight-seeing points, including the Grand Canyon and Flagstaff ski slopes to the north, the beaches of California to the west, and Mexico and the Sea of Cortez to the south.

The sixth largest state with 113,417 square miles, Arizona at its widest point is 395 miles long (north to south) and 340 miles wide (east to west).

ONCE YOU'VE ARRIVED

IN-PROCESSING

During duty hours, which are from 7:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., you should report to your unit of assignment where you will in-process and then be scheduled for base in-processing.

Base in-processing is located in Bldg. 1150, 2nd floor, Room 2102, and is Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays at 9 a.m. Bring copies of your orders and personnel and finance records. Members are required to be in uniform. No family members please.

TDY and PCS students should report to lodging, Bldg. 660. Civilian employees should report to Central Civilian Personnel, Bldg. 1150, Rm. 1178, for processing weekdays from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

At in-processing, you will complete all paperwork related to your move and go through an orientation designed to familiarize you with Luke's mission and its organization. During the first two weeks you will be scheduled to attend mandatory courses in drug abuse, education and driver's training phase two. If required, you will attend maintenance training during this time. Also during this time members must update their Record of Emergency Data.

ACCOMMODATIONS

Lodging is open around the clock. Families may stay in one of 40 TFL units for up to 30 days based on space available. No pets are allowed, and reservations may be made 60 days in advance by calling 856-3941 or DSN 896-3941.

Single airmen arriving PCS after duty hours or on weekends are lodged in VAQ until the first duty day, when they are assigned their squadron dormitory. Military people who expect to live in the local community must check with the Housing Office, Bldg. 1150, for briefing and counseling before seeking off-base housing. Rental and sales information is available.

BOX AND GENERAL DELIVERY SERVICE (PSC)

Located in Bldg. 545, on Mustang Street, this service is for inbound PCS, TDY and dorm residents only. Hours of operation are 7:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Your mail can be addressed or forwarded to:

General Delivery
Luke AFB, AZ
85309-9999

If you intend to reside off base, you may continue to receive general delivery service for a limited period of time.

For single military personnel who will be residing in on-base single quarters, your sponsor can obtain a PO Box number 90 days in advance by presenting a copy of your PCS orders to the Postal Service Center.

Regardless of your intended residence location, please be sure to personally contact the Postal Service Center shortly after your arrival. Be prepared to present a copy of your orders and military ID card.

Housing

ON-BASE HOUSING

Luke has 874 housing units, Saguaro Manor, north of Glendale Avenue and Ocotillo Manor, south of Glendale Avenue. Several types of homes are available subject to rank and family size. Basic bedroom requirements are determined by the number of dependents residing with you, including qualified dependents up to age 23 who are students.

Waiting time for base housing varies according to the number of bedrooms authorized, the members rank, and the time and year of arrival.

When applying in advance, the effective date on the housing list is the first of the month prior to our arrival sign-in month.

With proper documentation, a member arriving from a remote tour is put on the list effective at the time you departed from CONUS after the top 10 percent of the list is frozen (freeze-zone).

Your application date on a walk-in basis is the date your application is completed in the Housing Office.

Airman and junior NCO units are duplex quarters with 250 two-bedroom units, 402 three-bedroom units and 34 four-bedroom units.

Quarters for NCOs (E-7 through E-9) are duplex units—77 are three bedroom units and 16 are four-bedroom units.

Officers with families are offered single-unit company grade and field-grade houses.

Ten three-bedroom units are available for field grade and 77 for company grade.

All quarters are equipped with stoves, refrigerators, garbage disposals, central refrigeration units, and dishwashers.

We offer no permanent party Bachelor Officer Quarters or unaccompanied NCO Quarters. Unaccompanied personnel in grades E-5 and above are authorized to live off base with Basic Allowance for Housing (BAH).

DORMITORIES

For our airmen, there are several different dormitory styles. We have recently completed renovations of several dormitories to the new USAF “one plus one” dormitory standard. The “one plus one” standard is defined as two individual rooms sharing a common bathroom and kitchenette. We are very proud of our innovative design featuring bathtub/shower combinations, rooms larger than standard, and a mini-laundry room where four residents share one washer and dryer.

We also have two newly constructed permanent party enlisted dormitories built to the “one plus one” entryway styles. Most dormitory rooms share a bathroom with the adjoining room. There are no shared permanent party enlisted dormitory rooms at all, therefore, no roommates.

All dormitories have common area recreation rooms, pool and foosball tables, lounges and television rooms. We have installed home theater surround sound systems in each dormitory to further improve our dormitory environment. All dormitory and room assignments are made based on Group Integrity and are done by the Consolidated Dormitory Management Office (CDMO), located adjacent to dormitory 635, across from the base post office.

Airmen desiring to reside off base may be approved for BAH only if the base-wide dormitory occupancy exceeds 90 percent. Application can be made at the CDMO.

For further information, please contact the CDMO at 856-7841 or DSN 896-7841.

PET POLICY

Base housing residents are limited to two pets. Outdoor pets must be held or confined to a fenced-in area, residents may consider buying or renting commercial fencing which meets base specifications (four-foot-high, chain link).

The cost varies according to the area desired. Information is available in Housing Management, 856-7641.

OFF-BASE HOUSING

Since the variable housing allowance changes periodically, you need to consult accounting and finance for current amounts at Luke.

Relocation has implemented several programs for personnel seeking off-base housing—rentals and sales. One such program is the Set-Aside Housing program. Call or visit the Housing Office at Ext. 7641 in Bldg. 1150 for more information.

The housing office, Bldg. 1150 offers assistance to those seeking accommodations in the local area. A listing of sales and rental units can be found in this office to help your search. The list includes approximately 387 apartment complexes (63,801 units) and 37 mobile homes parks (4,837 units).

For 2003, the average rental costs (without utilities and furnishings) were:

- 1 BR unfurnished apartments: $745 and up
- 2 BR unfurnished apartments: $845 and up
- 3 BR/4 BR apartments: $1045 and up
- 3 BR/ 4 BR houses: $1000 and up

Utility bills vary widely depending on the size of the apartment or home and time of year. Utility costs are highest during the hot summer months due to air conditioning energy demands. Average monthly utility estimates range from $60 for a one-bedroom apartment to $225 per month for a three- or four-bedroom home. High-demand devices such as pumps for swimming pools can significantly increase utility costs.

Saguaro JNCO Housing

HOUSEHOLD GOODS DELIVERY

Household goods are delivered off base only after you arrive and call the Traffic Management Office during normal duty hours at 856-6425. Family Services, Bldg. 1113 can lend housekeeping items until your household goods arrive and can be reached at 856-6415.

CLAIMS

Newcomers who suffer loss or damage to household goods during a move may submit a claim at the legal office. For a claims appointment call 856-7371.

Generally you can avoid problems with a move by being home to accept delivery, requiring the carrier to unpack all goods and clean up all debris, examining all goods for damage and noting exceptions, and signing the inventory only after all items have been checked and exceptions noted.

If loss or damage occurs, however, you must notify the claims office within 70 days of delivery or the government cannot collect from the carrier and your claim may be reduced accordingly.

For more information call 856-7371.

FAMILY ASSISTANCE

FAMILY SUPPORT CENTER

A variety of programs and services are offered in the Family Support Center for families and single members in Bldg. 1113, across from Fowler Park.

Relocation Assistance is available for both arriving and departing personnel at the FSC and through the Internet. Newcomers receive information about the local area including community maps and brochures, school data, crime rates, recreational activities and "Heartlink," an interactive and fun spouse orientation. Departing members may access the Standard Installation Topic Exchange Service (SITES), which provides information about all major DOD installations and the surrounding communities, view base videos, and attend workshops on moving. "Kids on the Move" is a fun and interactive workshop for children ages 5 to 9 PCSing outbound.

The Transition Assistance Program assists retiring or separating personnel in developing a plan for civilian employment using links with community and national employment sources. A fully manned computerized resource center includes automated resume and civil service applications, national and international job postings, and on-site registration with the state employment services.

Spouse employment services help family members determine career goals, prepare for job search, write resumes, and identify employment leads. The resource room offers a full variety of automated employment services and current job opportunities.

The Volunteer Resource Program offers information on volunteer employment opportunities, training, and skills development base-wide, as well as an attractive incentive program for all base volunteers.

Financial Assistance includes services of a financial counselor who can assist in budget preparation, debt management, and resolution of credit problems. The Air Force Aid Society provides direct financial assistance for emergencies and for essential living expenses to eligible personnel and families. Referrals are also available to local community sources that help supplement the food budgets for families with young children.

The Family Readiness Program focuses on offering support to the families of members on a remote tour, deployment, or extended temporary duty. Monthly activities and many support programs ensure the military family is not forgotten when the service member gets called away for duty.

Family Education offers workshops and referrals relating to family communication, parenting, and personal interest topics such as self-esteem and assertiveness.

General information and referral is available for both on and off base community services. All new arrivals are encouraged to visit and find out about services that are available to help them make Luke their home. Come by and find out why "We're never the wrong place to go." For more information, call 856-6362.

FAMILY SERVICES

Located next to the hospital in Bldg. 1140, Family Services offers a variety of programs and services for Luke personnel and families.

A well-stocked Loan Closet has kitchenware, baby furnishings, futons, and other household items, available for loan to all relocating families.

A Uniform Exchange and Rank Bank are available at no cost to all military personnel.

New parents who are active duty E-4 and below receive complimentary baby items through the Layette Program funded by the Officers' Spouse's Club.

Infant and toddler car seats are also available for loan.

The Airman's Attic offers donated clothing, toys, household items, and more at no cost to families of E-5 (with less than 6 years of service) and below.

Family Services, a Combined Federal Campaign Agency, is a volunteer organization open 9 a.m. - 2 p.m. Mondays through Fridays and lives up to its motto "We take care of our own." For information on their services call 856-6415.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Children of base housing residents north of Glendale Avenue attend the Dysart School District, which includes Luke Elementary School (kindergarten through sixth grade), Dysart Junior High School (seventh and eighth grades), and Dysart High School (ninth through twelfth grades).

Children residing in base housing south of Glendale Avenue attend the Litchfield School District, which includes Scott L. Libby Elementary School (Kindergarten through fifth grade), and Western Sky Middle School (sixth, seventh, and eighth grades).

High school students attend the Agua Fria Union High School District.

If parents want their children to attend a school not in their housing attendance area, they may apply for out-of-district permission at the local campus.

Incoming families who need to enroll their children in school while staying in temporary living quarters on base (Papago Village) need to apply to the appropriate school within the Litchfield Elementary School District if they will be living in base housing south of Glendale Avenue or the appropriate school within the Dysart School District if they will be living north of Glendale Avenue.

Children entering school must present a birth or baptismal certificate and immunization records.

A school will not release most official school records until the receiving school requests them.

Children who are five years of age by Sept. 1 will be accepted into kindergarten.

CHILD DEVELOPMENT CENTER

The Child Development Center (CDC) is an accredited program offering quality care to children six weeks through five years of age. The child development program was established to meet the needs of these age groups by providing a variety of activities such as independent and organized group play for full-time and hourly children. Reservations are required for hourly care, at $2.00 per hour per child with a minimum of two hours. Hourly care is offered on a space available basis. For more information please call 856-6339.

FAMILY CHILD CARE

The Family Child Care (FCC) Program is a program which offers an alternative to center-based childcare. FCC is care provided for a child in another adult's home. Hourly, part-time, and full-time childcare services are provided.

All providers within the FCC program must attend a 5-day new provider orientation class, attain their CPR and First Aid cards, and successfully undergo inspections from Fire, Safety, Public Health, and the FCC office in order to become licensed. Local and national background checks are performed on all prospective providers and their families to ensure only the most qualified are licensed.

All providers are required to receive at least 24 hours of training per year in areas such as safety, health, nutrition, age appropriate activities, child development, positive guidance, First Aid, and CPR. The providers also have to complete the Air Force Family Child Care Training Modules.

Unannounced inspections are performed in each licensed home on a monthly basis. Quarterly nutrition and menu analysis visits are also accomplished.

Lists of childcare openings are updated on a monthly basis and can be picked up at the FCC office in Bldg. 219. For more information, call 856-7472.

YOUTH CENTER

The youth center is located west of Fowler Park in Bldg. 1143. Separate programs are designed for youth ages 6 to 12 and ages 13 to 18. Programs include evening social events, sports programs, instructional classes, and school age childcare. For further information on Youth Programs call 856-7470 for School Age Programs call 856-7471.

EDUCATION SERVICES

The Education Services Flight, located on the third floor in Bldg 1150, offers a variety of educational services and programs for active duty Air Force personnel. Some, but not all programs and/or services are also available to Air Force family members and DoD civilians and their family members.

Programs and services include:

The Air Force Tuition Assistance Program which pays 100% of an airman's tuition cost for college courses up to a semester hour cap of $250 and up to a maximum of $4,500 per fiscal year.

On-base colleges and universities with degree programs that can be completed (within a two to three year period) by students attending classes part time (off-duty). All five on-base schools Rio Salado Community College, Park College, Wayland Baptist University, Embry Riddle Aeronautical University, and Webster University grant some credit to airmen for Air Force training or Professional Military Education. All five programs are open to civilians and military family members.

Educational counseling and advisement services to include academic planning, college course/program selection and requirements, providing information about financial aid and scholarship programs, about college and university programs within the Phoenix area, as well as information about colleges and universities throughout the US.

Community College of the Air Force (CCAF) for active duty Air Force, Reserve, and Air Guard program which combines military technical school credit, professional military education credit and/or credit earned via testing with college credit culminating in an Associate of Applied Science Degree.

Defense Activity for Non-Traditional Education Support (DANTES) Testing Program which provides many examinations free of charge to active duty, reserve, and National Guard Personnel. There are more than 100 tests for which college credit can be earned. Other types of tests available include college entrance exams such as the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT), the Graduate Management Admission Test (GMAT), etc. Some, but not all, tests are available to family members and other civilians, but are not provided free of charge. For more information, call 856-7722.

MEDICAL ASSISTANCE

Medical Assistance

TRICARE

The TRICARE Service Center (TSC) offers guidance on your health care benefits. Additionally, this office will assist non-active duty beneficiaries in obtaining health care required outside of our military treatment facility (MTF). Health care for you and your family members is important. Don't wait until after you are sick to find out how to obtain care. As soon as you arrive, stop by the TSC to choose the TRICARE option under which you prefer to obtain your family's health care. Active duty personnel assigned to Luke are automatically enrolled in TRICARE Prime and assigned to a Luke Primary Care Manager (PCM) based on their assigned squadron.

All TRICARE eligible beneficiaries choosing to obtain routine healthcare at the 56 MDG must enroll in TRICARE Prime and select one of the PCM Teams at the Medical Group. The TSC is located in Bldg. 1142, behind the main hospital.

This office can provide literature and answer questions you may have regarding all your health care benefits, not just TRICARE. Representatives can be reached at 535-2460.

MEDICAL RIGHT START

Medical Right Start is a medical in-processing program that incorporates the Preventive Health Assessment (PHA) program, TRICARE enrollment, and an introduction of the 56th Medical Group. This best practice program is offered every other Friday at the main hospital 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Call 856-9378 for more details.

MEDICAL SERVICES

For information on clinics or to make an appointment, please log on to www.luke.af.mil/56mg or call us at 856-CARE (2273).

Sick call patients are seen by appointment. To make an appointment call 856-2273.

Dental Sick call patients are seen between 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. and 1 p.m. to 2 p.m., Monday through Friday. Call 856-CARE (2273) and press number "3" to schedule all appointments. Patients experiencing severe pain, swelling, infection or oral trauma (ex. split lip or tooth/teeth knocked loose) during normal duty hours, which are from 7 a.m. to 4 p.m., call 856-2273 and press the number 3 to let us know you are in route.

Base Services

VETERINARY SERVICES

Services provided at the Veterinary Clinic include vaccinations, parasite checks, deworming, health certificates, and treatment for zoonotic disease on an appointment basis. The staff registers pets maintained in base housing. The clinic is located just north of the main hospital. For more information, call 856-6354.

BANKING

Armed Forces Bank is located directly across from the main gate, in front of the commissary. A second office is located in the former cashiers cage inside of the Main Exchange. Please contact us at 535-9766 or 1-800-929-2265. Visit our web site at www.afbank.com or e-mail: info@afb.com.

CREDIT UNION WEST

The credit union, in Bldg. 1535 near the base exchange on Commissary Road and Glendale Avenue, offers a wide variety of savings and checking plans including IRAs, money market and certificate accounts. Auto and personal loans, Visa credit cards, Home Equity Lines of Credit and mortgage loans are also available. ATMs are conveniently located at the credit union and at the Fighter Country Inn. Visit us at www.creditunionwest.org.

RECREATIONAL VEHICLE PARKING/STORAGE

Luke AFB does not have an abundant supply of available parking spaces for recreational vehicles (RVs) and RV storage space is also limited. Newcomers with RVs should seek storage either on-base or at off-base locations immediately upon arrival. Temporary parking/storage of RVs on base will not exceed 72 hours. Personnel needing on base parking may contact the billing office at check in for parking locations.

AMERICAN RED CROSS

The American Red Cross, through its military and social services department, provides a worldwide system of emergency related services that are available to members of the military and their families. These services include: a communications network that is available to service members and their families during time of emergency; verification of emergency leave information for military commanders to help them make informed decisions to meet the interests of the service member and the military; access to financial assistance to members of the military and their families when an urgent family crisis arises; confidential counseling; information and referral; training in health and safety; disaster assistance, and volunteer programs.

The American Red Cross is located in Bldg. 1150, Room 3112, 7383 N. Litchfield Rd. Duty hours are 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. Phone 856-7823. After duty hours, please call 303-1183.

BASE EXCHANGE

The Base Exchange (BX) complex offers the Main Store, a food court and several concessions including the beauty and barber shops, optical, florist, Enterprise car rental, GNC, laundry/dry cleaning, alteration and various speciality shops plus a three story parking garage for the convenience of our customers. The Food Court offers Popeye's Chicken, Franks Franks, Robin Hood Deli, Anthony's Pizza and Starbucks. Other retail facilities on Luke include the Military Clothing (MCSS), a Shoppette, and the Service Station. The Burger King and Theater are across the street from the Main Exchange and the newest food concepts are the Subway and Pizza Hut Express in the Community Center on the west side of the base. For the latest in catalog shopping, information about AAFES and employment opportunities visit the Web page at www.aafes.com. AAFES... Serving the Best Customers in the World... We go where you go.

COMMISSARY

The commissary is available to all authorized active-duty and retired military personnel and their families. With new improvements and additions the Luke commissary is one of the largest in the Air Force. Call 935-3821.

SNACK BARS

The Army and Air Force Exchange Service (AAFES) has introduced new concepts in snack bars. Located at the main exchange is the food cluster concept featuring Anthony's Pizza, Frank's Frank, Robin Hood Deli and our newest food facility Wetzel's Pretzel.

AAFES also provides mobile meal serving trucks through the base for those distant and odd shift military personnel needs. Whatever you need, AAFES has you covered.

US POST OFFICE

Located in Bldg. 545, on Mustang Street, the USPS functions include stamps, money orders, special handling mail, COD packages and claims. Credit and debit cards are accepted. Hours of operation are 8:30 a.m. to 1:15 p.m. and 2:15 to 4:30 p.m. and there is no service on Saturdays.

Misc. Information

VEHICLE PROPERTY TAX

Military members may operate motor vehicles in Arizona using their home state's driver's license and license plates or may register the vehicle in Arizona. Family members must obtain an Arizona license to drive legally.

Military people with vehicle title solely in their name, and who are non-residents of Arizona, may register their cars in this state without paying the Arizona personal property tax, but must pay a small vehicle registration fee. The tax exemption form is available at your orderly room or the legal office and must be signed by your commander.

This form, plus an emissions test certification, must be presented to the Motor Vehicle Division in order to license your vehicle in the state.

An Air Force member who holds joint title to a vehicle with a spouse is entitled to the tax exemption for only half of the tax.

TRAFFIC

The speed limit at Luke is 25 mph unless otherwise noted. Speed laws are strictly enforced by radar.

A valid stateside issued driver's license is required for vehicle operation on base. Privately owned vehicles must be registered at Pass and Registration located in Bldg. 1150 within 5 days after arrival.

To register vehicles, provide a valid operator's permit, current state registration and proof of insurance. Failure to show proof of insurance may result in a one-year suspension of driving privileges on base.

For those who want to register their vehicle in Arizona, information is available during in-processing.

The Clean Air Act, 42 USC 7418(d), requires all military personnel registering vehicles on base with out-of-state license plates to furnish proof of compliance with local emissions inspection requirements. Emissions testing must be accomplished in Maricopa County at a state operated emissions testing facility prior to registering a vehicle on base which also includes motorcycles, diesels, motor homes, and recreational vehicles.

The Pass and Registration section will provide the vehicle owner with the required state emissions sticker at the time the owner is issued a base decal for the vehicle. If a person plans to obtain an Arizona vehicle registration, an emissions test is still required, but Pass and Registration does not issue an emissions decal for Arizona-licensed vehicles.

When registering a motorcycle on base, the owner must complete an approved motorcycle safety course and possess a course completion card. Temporary motorcycle registrations will only be issued after the owner presents a letter from the base safety office indicating enrollment in an approved motorcycle safety course.

For those who want to register their vehicles in Arizona, information is available during in-processing.

TIME ZONE

Arizona remains on Mountain Standard Time year-round without day light savings time.

LEGAL RESIDENCE

Many people are confused by the terms "legal residence," "residence," and "domicile." Generally, your residence is the place where you are living. Domicile or legal residence refers to your home state and the state of which you are a citizen.

In addition to establishing your liability for state personal income taxes, your legal residence determines a number of other important matters as well. Some examples are:

- Liability for state inheritance taxes.
- Where your will is to be probated and who is qualified to act as your executor or guardian of your minor children.
- The right to vote.
- Bonuses for wartime services.
- The right to homestead, veterans' claims or tax exemptions.
- Whether you or your children may attend a state college without paying higher fees required of out-of-state legal residents.
- Property rights of spouses and rules for divorce or marriage dissolutions.

Those who decide to become legal residents of Arizona should register to vote in the state, register their vehicle in Arizona, obtain an Arizona driver's license, establish Arizona as a permanent address on official records (W-4 and personnel records), and file an Arizona income tax return.

DRIVING UNDER THE INFLUENCE

Arizona laws are tough on first-time offenders and even tougher on those who develop a record of driving while intoxicated or under the influence of alcohol.

In Arizona you are considered under the influence if your blood-alcohol level measures .08 percent or higher. By driving on Arizona roads or on base, you consent to have your blood alcohol content tested.

LUKE AIR FORCE BASE HISTORY

LUKE AIR FORCE BASE

Luke Air Force Base is named for the first aviator to be awarded the Medal of Honor—2d Lt. Frank Luke Jr.

Born in Phoenix in 1897, the “Arizona Balloon Buster” scored 18 aerial victories during World War I (14 of these German observation balloons) in the skies over France before being killed, at age 21, on Sept. 29, 1918.

In 1940, the U.S. Army sent a representative to Arizona to choose a site for an Army Air Corps training field for advanced training in conventional fighter aircraft.

The city of Phoenix bought 1,440 acres of land which they leased to the government at $1 a year effective March 24, 1941. On March 29, 1941, the Del. E. Webb Construction Co. began excavation for the first building at what was known then as Litchfield Park Air Base.

Another base known as Luke Field, in Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, released its name when the base was transferred to the Navy in June 1941, and the fledgling Arizona base was called Luke Field at the request of its first commander, Lt. Col. Ennis C. Whitehead, who went on to become a lieutenant general as commander of Air Defense Command in 1950.

The first class of 45 students, Class 41 F, arrived June 6, 1941 to begin advanced flight training in the AT-6, although only a few essential buildings had been completed.

Flying out of Sky Harbor Airport until the Luke runways were ready, pilots received 10 weeks of instruction and the first class graduated Aug. 15, 1941. Capt. Barry Goldwater served as director of ground training the following year.

During World War II, Luke was the largest fighter training base in the Army Air Force, graduating more than 17,000 fighter pilots from advanced and operational courses in the AT-6, P-40, P-51 and P-38, earning the nickname, “Home of the Fighter Pilot.”

By Feb. 7, 1944, pilots at Luke had achieved a million hours of flying time. By 1946, however, the number of pilots trained dropped to 299 and the base was deactivated Nov. 30 that year.

Soon after combat developed in Korea, Luke field was reactivated on Feb. 1, 1951 as Luke Air Force Base, part of Air Training command under the reorganized U.S. Air Force.

Students progressed from the P-51 Mustang to the F-84. Flying training at Luke Changed to the F-100, and on July 1, 1958, the base was transferred from Air Training Command to Tactical Air Command.

Luke continued its tradition of providing fighter training for allied nations when an F-104 program for German Air Force pilots and a program in the F-5 for pilots from Third world nations began in 1964.

During the 1960s, thousands of American fighter pilots left Luke to carve their niche in the annals of Air Force history in the skies over Vietnam.

In July 1971, the base received the F-4C Phantom II and assumed its role as the main provider of fighter pilots for Tactical Air Command and fighter forces worldwide.

In November 1974, the Air Force's newest air superiority fighter, the F-15 Eagle, came to Luke. It was joined in December 1982 by the F-16 Fighting Falcon, which officially began training fighter pilots Feb. 2, 1983.

Luke units continued to set the pace for the Air Force. The 58th TTW had two squadrons—the 312th and 314th Tactical Fighter Training Squadrons—conducting training in the newest C and D models of the Fighting Falcon.

The 405th TTW received the first E model of the F-15 Eagle in 1988 and two of its squadrons—the 461st and 550th—began training in this dual-role fighter.

In July 1987, the Reserve function at Luke changed when the 302nd Special Operations Squadron deactivated its helicopter function and the 944th Tactical Fighter Group was activated to fly the F-16C/D.

The early 1990s brought significant changes to the base. As a result of defense realignments, the 312th, 426th and 550th TFTS were inactivated as were the 832nd Air Division and the 405th TTW. The F-15A and B models were transferred out, and the 58th TTW, being the senior wing at Luke, was re-designated the 58th Fighter Wing and once again became the host unit at Luke.

In April 1994, after 24 years at Luke, the 58th Fighter Wing was replaced by the 56th as part of the Air Force Heritage program. Air Force officials established the program to preserve Air Force legacy and history during a time of military draw down. The 56th FW was one of the most highly decorated units in Air Force history, and it was named to remain part of the active fighter force while the 58th was reassigned as a special operations wing to Kirtland AFB, NM.

Units flying the F-16 Fighting Falcon are the 308th, 309th, 310th, 425th, 61st, 62nd, 63rd and 21st Fighter Squadrons.

FRANK LUKE JR.

For several months, the grave was marked with a wooden cross that read, "Unknown American Aviator." To the French people of Murvaux, France, who were eyewitnesses to his last flight, and who buried him with what honors the Germans would permit, this unknown was the hero of the war.

These bits of evidence from various sources, when pieced together led to the identification of this aviator. The cross over his grave now bears the inscription "2nd Lieut. Frank Luke, Jr. Pilot, 27th Aero Squadron; 19 victories. Killed in action Sept. 29, 1918." The young lieutenant's record and details of his last flight disclose a story as inspiring as ever to stir people's admiration, and a death in action as valiant as anyone to ever earn a country's highest award.

His story starts in Phoenix May 19, 1897. Luke grew up in the desert and was known as one of the best athletes at Phoenix High School. He was captain of the track team and a member of the basketball and football teams.

Soon after the U.S. entered World War I, the 20-year old Luke enlisted as a private in the Signal Corps. From there he entered pilot training and entered combat in France as a new member of the 1st Pursuit Group, 27th Aero Squadron.

His exploits ranged only a scant 17 days, but in this time, as records now reflect, he destroyed 14 German balloons and four aircraft, earning him the title of the "Arizona Balloon Buster."

Luke's commander, Maj. H.E. Hartney, said of him, "No one had the sheer contemptuous courage that boy possessed. He was an excellent pilot and probably the best flying marksman on the Western Front. We had any number of expert pilots and there was no shortage of good shots, but the perfect combination, like the perfect specimen of anything in the world, was scarce. Frank Luke was the perfect combination."

While balloons sound insignificant, in WWI's trench warfare environment they were critical. They served as observation posts and enabled both armies to look deep behind one another's lines.

The hydrogen-filled balloons were expensive and of great military value. Normally protected by heavy anti-aircraft gun batteries, there was usually a flight of pursuit planes stationed nearby. To attack a balloon was practically suicide.

But for whatever reason, these were Luke's voluntary objectives. Some surmised it was because of the easy confirmation as the fireball fell from the sky with a plume of smoke. On Sept. 12, 1918, Luke shot down his first balloon.

His last flight was Sept. 29, 1918. At least 13 people in the village of Murvaux, France, watched his final blaze of glory.

That little group later made a sworn affidavit of his actions that day.

They said they saw an American aviator with a squadron of Germans pursuing and shooting at him. He descended suddenly and vertically toward the earth, then straightened out and flew toward Briers Farm where he found a German balloon, which he shot up and burned in spite of incessant enemy fire. He destroyed two other balloons while still flying through hostile fire both from troops on the ground and the German fighters.

He did not escape unscathed. Even though already wounded, he attacked one more observation balloon and the Frenchmen saw it burst into flames and plummet to the ground.

Luke descended to within 50 meters of the ground and opened fire on enemy troops, killing six and wounding as many more. But his time was limited. His wounds and the damage to his aircraft forced him to land. As German soldiers surrounded him on all sides, he drew his .45 caliber pistol and defended himself until he fell, mortally wounded from a bullet in his chest.

Infuriated by the savagery of the American's final attack, the German commandant of the village refused to have straw placed in the cart that removed Luke's body. He also refused to allow some women to shroud his body with a sheet. Witnesses reported he kicked Luke's body and snapped, "Get that thing out of my way as quickly as possible."

Two men, Cortlae Delbert and Voliner Nicolas, loaded the Arizonan's body on a wagon, and escorted him to the cemetery and buried him.

In just five consecutive days, Luke had piled up nine victories: eight balloons and one plane.

His courage in combat not only earned him his nickname, but also the Medal of Honor. His awards included the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Italian War Cross and the Aero Club Medal for Bravery. In 1930, the American Society for the Promotion of Aviation named him the nation's greatest air hero.

Though unmarried, Luke came from a large family, and many in the Valley of the Sun today carry on the Luke family name.

56TH FIGHTER WING HISTORY

Luke's 56th Fighter Wing was first activated in January 1941, as the 56th Pursuit Group, in Savannah, GA. Its earlier history was marked by frequent moves, the first to North Carolina in May 1941 and then to New York in 1942. Using P-39 and P-40 aircraft, the unit flew air defense patrol until June 1942, when the group became the first to train with and fly the P-46 Thunderbolt.

The 56th left for England on Jan. 6, 1943. During the following two years, pilots of the 56th destroyed more enemy planes and listed more aces than any other Army Air Force group in the 8th Air Force, including the top two aces in Europe. By the war's end, the 56th's motto—"Cave Tonitrum," "Beware the Thunderbolt"—was highly respected by the allies and their enemies.

On Oct. 18, 1945, the unit was inactivated. It was reactivated May 1, 1946 at Selfridge field, Mich. as part of the Strategic Air Command's 15th Air Force. It included the 61st, 62nd and 63rd Fighter Squadrons. As part of a restructuring, the 56th Fighter Wing was activated Aug. 15, 1947, and the 56th Fighter Group was assigned to the new wing.

In July and August 1948, a major operation of the 56th involved 16 of the wing's F-80's. The flight proceeded to Furstenfeldbruck, Germany, by way of Maine, Labrador, Greenland, Iceland and Scotland. Although the operation was not connected with the Berlin Airlift, which was in progress, it did focus world attention on the U.S. Air Force's ability to rapidly deploy jet fighters during a crisis.

The wing was transferred from Strategic Air Command to the Continental Air Command's 10th Air Force Dec. 1, 1948, and the mission of the wing's tactical units was shifted to air defense. The unit was re-designated as the 56th Fighter Interceptor Wing on Jan. 20, 1950. Its 61st, 62nd and 63rd Fighter Interceptor Squadrons converted from the F-80 Shooting Star to the F-86 Sabrejet in April 1950.

The wing, with the exception of the four tactical squadrons, was inactivated Feb. 6, 1952. The tactical squadrons were reassigned to new air defense wings as part of a general reorganization of the Air Defense Command.

Almost nine years later, having been re-designated the 56th Fighter Wing (Air Defense); the wing was reactivated at K.I. Sawyer AFB, Mich., again with an air defense mission. The wing controlled a single tactical unit, the 62nd FIS, flying the F-101 Voodoo.

From Feb. 1, 1961 to Oct. 1, 1963, the 56th was part of the Sault Sainte Marie Air Defense Sector. From Oct. 1, 1963 to Jan. 1, 1964, the wing was an important part of the Duluth Air Defense Sector. Under both sectors, the 56th participated in many ADC exercises, tactical evaluations and other air defense operations. The single tactical squadron was placed directly under Duluth Air Defense Sector Dec. 16, 1963, leaving the wing without a tactical mission. On Jan. 1, 1964, the 56th was assigned to SAC and inactivated.

Slightly more than three years later, the wing was once again activated, this time at Nakon Phanon Royal Thai AFB, Thailand. The unit was designated the 56th Air Commando Wing and had a complex combat mission in the war then raging in Southeast Asia. Assigned to 13th Air Force, the 56th received operational direction from 7th Air Force in Saigon. The combat and support operations of the wing in Southeast Asia were numerous and varied. Until Aug. 1, 1968, the wing operated as an air commando organization. From Aug. 1, 1968 to June 30, 1975, the 56th was designated a special operations organization.

Special missions were the rule rather than the exception during the entire period of the wing's stay in Thailand. It strongly supported the Southeast Asia conflict in a wide variety of specialized, as well as general operations, directly carrying the fight to the enemy. The wing and its units participated in every military campaign beginning with the Vietnam Air Offensive, Phase II. The wing's headquarters earned unit awards with the combat "V" device and Republic of Vietnam Gallantry Cross with Palm. Individual units of the 56th shared in some of these awards as well as earning others on their own.

On June 30, 1975, the 56th U.S. Air Force Hospital and 56th Consolidated Aircraft maintenance Squadron, two of the wing's subordinate units, were inactivated. The wing itself, together with its supply and transportation squadrons and its combat support group (the latter containing its security police and civil engineering squadrons) moved without personnel or equipment to MacDill AFB, Florida. The wing was re-designated the 56th Tactical Fighter Wing and assigned to Tactical Air Command's 9th Air Force.

The 1st TFW and several newly activated units bearing the "56th" designation replaced similar units bearing the "1st" designation. The inactive 61st and 62nd FS were re-designated as tactical fighter squadrons and the 63rd Fighter Interceptor Training Squadron was moved without personnel or equipment from Tyndall AFB, Fla., re-designated as a tactical fighter squadron and assigned to the 56th TFW. Finally, the 4501st Tactical Fighter Replacement Squadron, later re-designated the 13th Tactical Fighter Training Squadron, and the U.S. Air Force Regional Hospital, MacDill, were re-designated from the 1st to the 56th TFW.

On Oct. 1, 1981, the 56th had its designation changed once again. The wing changed from a tactical fighter wing to a tactical training wing. This designation was brought about because of the conversion from the F-4D Phantom II to the F-16 Fighting Falcon. The transition process began in November 1979, and was completed in June 1982.

With the change in the wing's designation, each of its squadrons also had name changes. The 61st, 62nd and 63rd became tactical fighter training squadrons and the 13th was inactivated July 1, 1982. The 72nd TFTS was activated on the same day and was one of the four squadrons of the 56th.

June 27, 1988, marked another transition for the 56th. The wing began its conversion from the F-16 A/B models to the updated F-16 C/Ds. That was followed by another reorganization which saw the 56th re-designated as a fighter wing on Oct 1, 1991 and its flying units once again became fighter squadrons.

With the F-16 C/Ds, the 56th remains the primary F-16 aircrew and maintenance training wing in the Air Force. The 56th was reassigned to Luke AFB April 1, 1994. Under the 56th Fighter Wing, which retains its F-16 C/D training mission, are the 308th, 309th, 310th, 61st, 62nd, 63rd, 21st and 425th Fighter Squadrons.

56th Fighter Wing

56TH FIGHTER WING

The host command at Luke AFB is the 56th Fighter Wing, under Air Education and Training Command's 19th Air Force.

The Wing provides command guidance and operational control of the 56th Operations Group, 56th Maintenance Group, 56th Mission Support Group and 56th Medical Group.

Wing headquarters is located in Bldg. 452. The Wing is also directly responsible for several functional areas.

INSPECTOR GENERAL

The Inspector General (IG) is the Eyes, Ears, and Conscience of the command. The IG is an independent agency that investigates complaints, allegations of reprisal, improper mental health referrals, and fraud, waste, and abuse (FWA). It conducts administrative investigations designed to ensure efficient and effective mission accomplishment. The IG provides training and education for all base personnel on IG issues and procedures, provides assistance where wrong doing is not present, and referrals to appropriate agencies chartered to handle each respective situation to ensure that the integrity of the system is maintained. The IG serves as the Wing's Congressional Liaison Officer to members of Congress for all matters pertaining to Luke Air Force Base. Finally, the IG exercises the 56th FW and is in charge of the exercise evaluation team (EET) through the IGI office.

COMMAND AND CONTROL FLIGHT

Command Post Operations serves as the nerve center for all Luke AFB operations. A duty controller is available 24 hours a day at 856-5800.

STAFF JUDGE ADVOCATE

The legal office, in Bldg. 1150, provides confidential advice to all service members concerning personal civil matters and military affairs.

Advice is available on divorce, marriage, adoption, insurance, personal injury, claims, leases, wills, powers of attorney and indebtedness.

Air Force lawyers can not represent members in civilian court, in civilian business matters or fill out civilian legal paperwork, but they can offer legal advice early and often, preventing problems from escalating. Legal advice is not given on the phone.

Notary service is available during each workday from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Legal assistance is available during specific time periods. Please call 856-6901 for assistance.

COMMAND CHIEF MASTER SERGEANT

The command chief master sergeant is the 56th FW commander's representative for all enlisted activities. He is available in wing headquarters, Bldg. 452, and may be reached at 856- 5606.

SAFETY OFFICE

Located in Bldg. 470, this section includes flight, ground, and weapons safety staff. A mandatory Local Conditions Class is Wednesdays at 8 a.m. for all newly assigned Luke personnel, both military and civilian. Dependents may attend on a space available basis. Call 856-6941 or 856-6105.

PROTOCOL

The Protocol staff advises on proper protocol for all on-base events attended by the Wing Commander or Vice Wing Commander; and works directly with a point of contact for military ceremonies. Protocol is the focal point for organizing all distinguished visits to Luke AFB including military and high-level civilians.

The office is located in wing headquarters, Bldg 452, 856-5604 or 856-5605.

PUBLIC AFFAIRS

The focal point for all information concerning Luke people and activities the Public Affairs Office is located in Bldg. 452. The staff conducts base tours, provides speakers for civic organizations in the community, publishes the weekly newspaper, "Thunderbolt," and is the commander's liaison between the base and local media organizations. Call 856-5853 for more information.

HISTORIAN

The historian documents activities of Luke AFB and provides historical reference services. The historian is located in Bldg. 1150, 856-6328.

56TH COMPROLLER SQUADRON

The 56th CPTS includes Financial Services, Financial Analysis, Nonappropriated Fund Oversight, Quality Assurance, and Command Section/Orderly Room. The unit's overriding goals are customer service and fiscal execution. Recent changes have made it possible to improve the ability to service customers with fewer resources.

Some of these advances include the Government Travel Card Program, Electronic Funds Transfer for payments, centralized accounting, and faster support for military pay processing.

Financial Services will probably be one of the most important stops for a newcomer. It is located on the first floor of Bldg. 1150, and customers can get military, civilian, and travel pay assistance at the centralized customer service counter. As part of the in-processing program, newcomers are scheduled for a finance briefing where they are assisted in completing their travel voucher and any pay questions are answered.

Upon arrival, newcomers will have their Master Military Pay Account updated to reflect their proper entitlements at Luke. Direct deposit is required for all military personnel, so to aid in a smoother in-processing newcomers are encouraged to maintain their Direct Deposit account during PCS. For more information, call 856-6720.

EEO

EEO serves as the Wing Commander's advisor on discrimination complaints.

This office processes Equal Employment Opportunity complaints of civilian employees and/or applicants for employment of Luke AFB. This office conducts and monitors all Mediation Sessions of workplace disputes for Luke AFB. The EEO office is located in Bldg. 1150, Suite 3005 and can be reached at 856-7113.

MANPOWER AND ORGANIZATION OFFICE

The MO office provides manpower management support to the 56th Fighter Wing and tenants. It also advises on requirements determination, organization structure, and on the best uses of manpower resources in peacetime and wartime. This office also administers productivity and IDEA programs, and provides consultant services. The MO office serves as the wing's OPR for PERSLOAD and wing performance measures.

MO also serves as the wing's focal point for AETC's organizational excellence initiatives. The Manpower and Organization office is located in Bldg. 156 and can be reached at 856-3211 or 856-3211.

MILITARY EQUAL OPPORTUNITY

The Military Equal Opportunity staff is qualified to assist Luke people with specialized problems in the areas of equal opportunity and treatment, human relations and other problems. The office is located in Bldg. 1150. Call 856-6711.

CHAPEL PROGRAM

The Luke Chapel Team is committed to providing worship and spiritual growth opportunities for the entire family. Six chaplains and four support personnel are assigned to administer an extensive religious program in two chapels.

Chaplain offices and administrative offices are located in the Luke Community Chapel (LCC) located between the Officers' Club and the Fitness Center. The Chapel on the Mall (COM), located near the airplane display, is a historic Luke structure dating back to 1941.

Many couples choose to have their wedding in the beautiful Chapel on the Mall. Weddings must be scheduled several months in advance. Call 856-6211 to reserve one of the chapels.

Each squadron has a chaplain designated to provide regular visitation. Counseling appointments may be scheduled through the chapel secretary, 856-6211.

Religious education is provided for both Catholics and Protestants. Classes are held on Sundays in the Luke Elementary School.

An on-call chaplain may be reached after duty hours by calling the Command Post at 856-5800.

The chapel program is designed to meet as many spiritual needs as possible. The worship schedule is listed below:

56th Mission Support Group

56TH MISSION SUPPORT GROUP

The 56th Mission Support Group's mission is to sustain the F-16 Fighting Falcon, provide for the community, and deliver responsive combat support anytime, anywhere. The five squadrons of the group, almost 1,500 strong, perform the critical installation management that helps keep the wing flying. These men and women are sortie generators. They serve more than 90,000 people including active duty, reserve, civilians, students, family and retirees.

The base has approximately $350 million in land, building and real property including 4,200 acres at Luke AFB and 1.7 million acres at the Barry M. Goldwater range complex.

The 56th Mission Support Group headquarters is located in the Support Center, Bldg. 1150, on the east side of Litchfield Road.

56TH SECURITY FORCES SQUADRON

The 56th SFS provides a variety of force protection services in Bldg. 179, located immediately north of the AAFES Service Station. This facility houses the commander, unit personnel office, armory, information and personnel security, community policing, resources protection, reports and analysis, confinement, investigations, law enforcement and security operations.

For assistance with routine matters call the security forces desk at 856-5970. To report a crime, suspicious activity or other emergency, call 911 from an on-base phone. If using a cell phone you must tell them you need the Luke AFB 911 Dispatcher.

Restricted area badges and vehicle registration services are available in Bldg. 1150, second floor, customer service area. An additional customer service area for vehicle registration is located off the installation at the Defense Reutilization Marketing Area located on El Mirage Road just North of Glendale Avenue. As a reminder, all newcomers, civilian and military, must register their vehicles on base within five duty days of arrival. Information is also available on registering vehicles in Arizona.

Marksmanship training services are conducted by the Combat Arms Training Management section located in Bldg. 909.

56TH CIVIL ENGINEER SQUADRON

The diverse mission of the 56th CES includes fire protection, explosive ordnance disposal, readiness, construction, environmental programs, family housing and operations and maintenance of Luke and the 1.7 million acre Barry M. Goldwater Range.

The fire flight, along with our readiness flight, honors mutual-aid agreements with the surrounding communities. The EOD flight and environmental flight continue to lead the way with new and diverse programs that will enhance not only Luke, but also the community that surrounds it.

Other areas in the squadron include the housing flight, which assists all personnel with their housing needs, and the operations flight. Operations is often thought of as the heartbeat of the organization. From maintaining air conditioning to grounds maintenance and paving roads, the operations flight does it all with pride.

CE headquarters is located on the north end of the base, just inside the north gate.

56TH COMMUNICATIONS SQUADRON

The 56th Communications Squadron provides communications and information capabilities supporting Luke AFB.

Keeping an eye on transforming the Air Force mission to better, faster and less expensive methods of operation, the 56th Communications Squadron continuously plans for programming of acquisition and installation of the latest available technologies enhancing Luke's primary missions of training fighter pilots and combat ready crew chiefs. They manage and oversee compliance to Air Force standards for all Luke AFB information technology including small computers, the base area network, and the base telephone switch. Acting as the eyes and ears for the fighter wing commander on all communications and information matters, the 56th Communications squadron leverages information technology for more effective fighter operations, maintenance, support and medical operations.

Squadron personnel maintain and operate the myriad number of complex systems necessary to run the Air Force's largest fighter training mission. Mission systems flight maintains navigational aids, air-to-ground radio, air traffic control and landing, and security systems. Plans flight provides contracted telephones and telephone operator services including access to the Defense Switched Network. Information Systems Flight operates the Air Force Network Control Center providing data network services for the entire base populace, and the wing information assurance office defending Luke in the information domain. Support Flight runs the Postal Service Center providing United States Postal services and official mail, while supporting all Luke publications, the Freedom of Information Act program, and all photo, video, and graphic arts required by all Luke and many regional missions. Operating with personnel in eight separate facilities, squadron personnel fuse as one in their dedication to excellence.

The squadron motto is Loquimini Tonitrum, latin for "Speak the Thunder." The "bats" of the 56th Communications Squadron operate wherever, whenever, and however it takes to support all Luke missions and to be the preeminent providers of communications and information capabilities.

56TH CONTRACTING SQUADRON

Located in Bldg 26, the 56th Contracting Squadron awards over $61 million annually in appropriated and non-appropriated funded contracts supporting 56th Fighter Wing, 944th Fighter Wing, Gila Bend Air Force Auxiliary Field (AFAF), the 1.7 million acre Barry M. Goldwater Range, Fort Tuthill Recreational Area and 14 tenant units. Flights within the 56th Contracting Squadron include Acquisitions Flight A, Acquisitions Flight B, and Plans and Programs Flight. Acquisition Flight A acquires all commodities, equipment, services and limited construction in support of Luke AFB and its tenant units. In addition, this flight also has a specialized element that is responsible for acquisition support to the Range Management Office, executing requirements for Gila Bend AFAF and the Barry M. Goldwater Range, as well as various high interest environmental and archeological projects. Acquisition Flight B, otherwise known as the Civil Engineering or Construction Flight supports all base infrastructure requirements identified by the 56th Civil Engineer Squadron, which include alterations, repairs, renovations and construction of real property and service contracts such as military family housing maintenance. The Plans and Programs Flight is responsible for performing data collection, trend analysis, computer and network support. In addition, this flight also serves as the installation program management office for the $20 million Government Purchase Card Program (GPC). For more information regarding the 56th Contracting Squadron call 856-7162.

56TH LOGISTICS READINESS SQUADRON

The 56th LRS operates in various locations throughout the base with the command section and warehouse located in Bldg. 945.

Fuels Management Flight is located in Bldg. 312 and Vehicle Management is located in Bldg. 291. Questions about supply issues should be directed to the customer support function at 856-6809. After-hours support is available through our pager at 208-6859. The fuels control center can be reached directly at 856-3661.

Vehicle Management repairs and manages 780 vehicles. GOV mobile maintenance service is available at 856-6692. The Vehicle Operations Section conducts testing and issues governing operators licenses. Call 856-7198 for more information. U-Drive it vehicles are available for short-term use on official business by calling 856-3702.

The Traffic Management Office (TMO) has been regionalized under the Joint Personal Property Shipping Office, Colorado Springs (JPPSO-COS). For inbound we will be able to check our computer and see if your shipment is in, then you will be given a 1-800 number to call to set up your shipment for delivery. Luke Outbound Shipment will still do all necessary paperwork and forward to JPPSO-COS. You will be given a 1-800 number to call to confirm your pack and pick-up dates. Should a problem arise while the shipment is being delivered or being picked up, you may call TMO. They have a standby person and can be reached through the Command Post after normal duty hours. Passenger section and scheduled airline ticket office remain walk-in services.

56TH SERVICES SQUADRON

The 56th Services Squadron is responsible for the upkeep and operation of all off-duty related support and recreational services at Luke and the Fort Tuthill recreational area near Flagstaff.

Among their various activities, Services is also responsible for base lodging, the honor guard, mortuary affairs, base linen exchange and is administratively responsible for the base exchange and commissary operations.

BOWLING CENTER

Located in Bldg. 1525 in the community area, the Bowling Center offers programs for all family members including men's and women's leagues, intramural league, and mixed doubles for adults and leagues for youth. The facility is equipped with AMF Automatic Scoring and Pinspotters.

The Center's pro shop carries a complete line of bowling supplies including balls, bags, shoes, grips and more. Expert ball measuring, drilling, plugging and re-drilling by bowling center professionals are available.

A variety of sandwiches and soups, as well as beverages, can be enjoyed at the 25th Lane Snack Bar open every day.

SKILLS DEVELOPMENT CENTER

A well-stocked resale store with craft materials is available at Bldg. 247 on 140th Drive. Artists and hobbyists may enhance their creative urges through instructional classes, workshops and programs scheduled monthly around well-equipped work areas.

Beginners, as well as advanced students may learn about custom matting and framing, fine art, stained glass, ceramics, pottery, air brush painting and other crafts.

The center also has an awards shops which offers engraving, plaques, and Air Force name tags.

The Picture Perfect Frame Shop has colorful mat boards, hundreds of styles of frame molding, glass and other services.

The Wood Shop has a large selection of woodworking equipment to do most wood projects from refinishing to complex furniture designs. Call 856-6566.

AUTO SKILLS CENTER

Do-it-yourself mechanics will enjoy visiting Bldg. 235 on 140th Drive, for lube racks, lifts, engine stalls, a paint booth, specialized tools and equipment, overnight and long-term storage and a mechanics shop.

Services include engine analysis, full air-conditioning service, computerized wheel balancing, valve grinding, disc and brake-drum-turning lathe, welding, and a full library of technical manuals.

A qualified technical crew is on hand to help, to train and to troubleshoot. Find out about classes in mechanics, welding, painting and troubleshooting. A self-serve car wash and vacuum are located beside the Auto Skill Center. Call 856-6107.

FOOD SERVICES

All enlisted personnel are authorized to dine in the Ray V. Hensman dining facility Bldg. 545 seven days a week. Proper identification is required to ensure authorization. Personnel in per diem status, or receiving separate rations, will be required to pay the appropriate surcharge. All menu items are sold on an a-la-carte basis.

The Falcon Inn Bldg. 954 is a carry-out facility located near the flight-line. Menus served includes short-order a-la-carte items. All enlisted personnel are authorized to dine in these two facilities.

For additional information please call the food service staff office at 856-7329.

DESERT STAR ENLISTED CLUB

The Desert Star Enlisted Club, Bldg. 161 on West Eagle Street, serves all enlisted grades and civilians up through the grade of GS-6, their equivalents and enlisted retirees. Excellent daily lunch specials are available Monday through Friday. The club offers a terrific value with their Sunday Breakfast buffet.

The club features a casual, main and top three lounge with complimentary hors d'oeuvres each evening. A variety of entertainment is offered and the new satellite system offers a huge variety of sporting and other events.

The Desert Star Enlisted Club is continually improving and is one of the best you will find in the CONUS. You, the member are first with us and we truly believe the saying, "Air Force Clubs a tradition worth continuing." We welcome your membership and look forward to transferring your Air Force Service Card to the Desert Star Club. Call the club at 856-7137 if we may be of service to you.

OFFICERS' CLUB

The Luke Officers' Club has recently been named the best in AETC for the second year in a row! The club has a membership of over 2,000 and is located in Bldg. 750 on Phantom Street. The recently remodeled dining room rivals that of the finest restaurants in the Phoenix metropolitan area.

The Luke Officers' Club offers a delicious lunch Monday through Friday, can cater functions from 2 to 275 and has a great variety of dinner specials. The recently remodeled patio is available for parties and with the great area climate, this is sure to become one of the clubs' hot spots.

We welcome you to Luke and our Officers' Club. Stop by and see us for the transfer of your services card to Luke so you may enjoy the many benefits our club has to offer. We are out to provide you the best customer service available and to prove the slogan "Air Force Clubs a tradition worth continuing." We think you'll agree once you stop in to the Luke Officers' Club. Should you have any questions or if we can be of assistance, don't hesitate to call 856-6446 or 856-6447.

THRIFT SHOP

The place to shop for bargains is in Bldg. 152. Sponsored by the Officers' Spouses Club, the facility is open Wednesdays and Fridays, from 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. and closed July and August. For information and consignments call 935-5782.

FITNESS CENTER

Located in Bldg. 820 on Shooting Star Street, the Fitness Center has staff members ready to accommodate special fitness needs. Areas include: a Nautilus and free weight room, racquetball, volleyball, badminton, tennis and basketball courts, an aerobics area, jogging courses, lighted football/soccer and softball fields, batting cage and a cardiovascular room. The facility also features locker rooms with showers and saunas. Instructional programs with supervised training in fundamental skills and techniques are offered year-round to the experienced and the novice athlete.

Special aerobic exercise classes, body development, and diet and fitness for life training are available to all patrons at no charge. A continuing rehabilitation program is available with state-of-the-art cardiovascular equipment, including treadmill, stairmaster, aerobicycles, computer rowing machines and stationary bicycles.

FOWLER PARK

Just west of the base housing area, Fowler Park has a tennis court, basketball court, softball field, jogging track, and picnic and pavilion areas. Call 856-6267 for group reservations.

FORT TUTHILL

If you want to escape the desert heat, Luke has a recreation area located two miles south of Flagstaff in Northern Arizona.

Open year-round, Fort Tuthill is only 20 miles south of the Arizona Snow Bowl for skiing and about 80 miles from the Grand Canyon.

Fort Tuthill's facilities include a lodge with 20 hotel rooms. There are also 11 A-frames (two bedroom, fully contained houses), nine yurts (wooden walls with tent tops), and ten cabins. Public showers, restrooms, and laundry facilities are available near the main lodge. A small store with rental equipment includes canoes, bicycles, backpacks, tents, fishing poles, cross-country skis, snowshoes and inner tubes. A cross-country ski trail nearby makes a 10-mile loop and the site offers inner tube fun in the snow. RV and tent sites are also available.

Reservations are accepted at Fort Tuthill. Active duty military personnel may make reservations for any 12-month period beginning with the month in which the reservation is made. All other authorized personnel may make reservations for any 6-month period beginning with the month in which the reservation is made.

Reservations should be confirmed with a credit card. Check guarantees are due within 10 days after the date the reservation is made. Cancellations must be received at least 48 hours in advance of arrival to avoid penalty fees.

Check-in is no earlier than 3 p.m. Check-out no later than 11 a.m. PETS ARE NOT PERMITTED on Fort Tuthill grounds, except in the RV section.

Fort Tuthill is open 24 hours a day for your convenience. Call their toll-free commercial number, 1-800-552-6268. Visit our website: www.Forttuthill.com for on-line reservations.

FALCON DUNES GOLF COURSE

Luke's own Falcon Dunes Golf Course is located just north of the base on the corner of Northern Ave. and Reems Road. The 6,630 yard par 71 layout is among the finest military courses in the world. Falcon Dunes, which opened in the spring of 1998, was designed by renowned golf course architect Gary Panks who designed such famous courses as Grayhawk and the Raven at South Mountain. The course features undulating greens and elevation changes in the fairways you would not expect in this part of Arizona. The 8,250 square foot clubhouse features seating for up to 110 people along with an outstanding pro-shop, food service facility and a beautiful lounge area. The facility also boasts a large outdoor patio with built-in grill perfect for golf outings or simply as a place to relax and enjoy lunch and take in the terrific view. Falcon Dunes offers a large practice facility with excellent putting and chipping greens along with a large driving range. Lessons are available for both beginners and low handicap golfers and those with various skills in between. Officers' Club and Enlisted Club members enjoy discounted greens fees year-round. The course is available for tournaments during weekdays and sponsors several tournament events throughout the year. Be sure to visit Falcon Dunes Golf course. We believe you'll find it to be a unique golfing experience both on the course and in the clubhouse. Our website is www.falcondunes.net.

56TH MISSION SUPPORT SQUADRON

The 56 MSS includes Military Personnel Flight, Civilian Personnel Flight, Family Support Center, Education Services Flight, Airman Leadership School, and the First Term Airman Center.

CIVILIAN PERSONNEL

Located in Bldg. 1150, this office administers the civilian employee programs, establishing positions, assuring affirmative action recruitment and advancement opportunities, and providing assistance on employee/labor relations concerns.

MILITARY PERSONAL FLIGHT

Customer service is a key element of the Base Newcomer In-processing (BNI) Session. The session is conducted every Monday/Wednesday/Friday at 9:00 a.m. All newcomers will first in-process with their Commander Support Staffs and then with the MPF. Finance has been included in the BNI session to help alleviate an inconvenience for newcomers.

Please note: All in-processing must be completed before any permissive TDY can be taken. If you are an accession, a one-on-one in-processing appointment can be scheduled. If you need assistance, please contact your Commander Support Staff.

AIRMAN LEADERSHIP SCHOOL

The Professional Military Education Flight, located in building 156, conducts the Airman Leadership School. This comprehensive 192-hour course prepares selected senior airmen for supervisory positions and fosters a commitment to the Profession of Arms.

The curriculum includes comprehensive hours of study in Leadership, Communicative Skills, and the Profession of Arms. The Airman Leadership School Flight Chief is available at 856-7737.

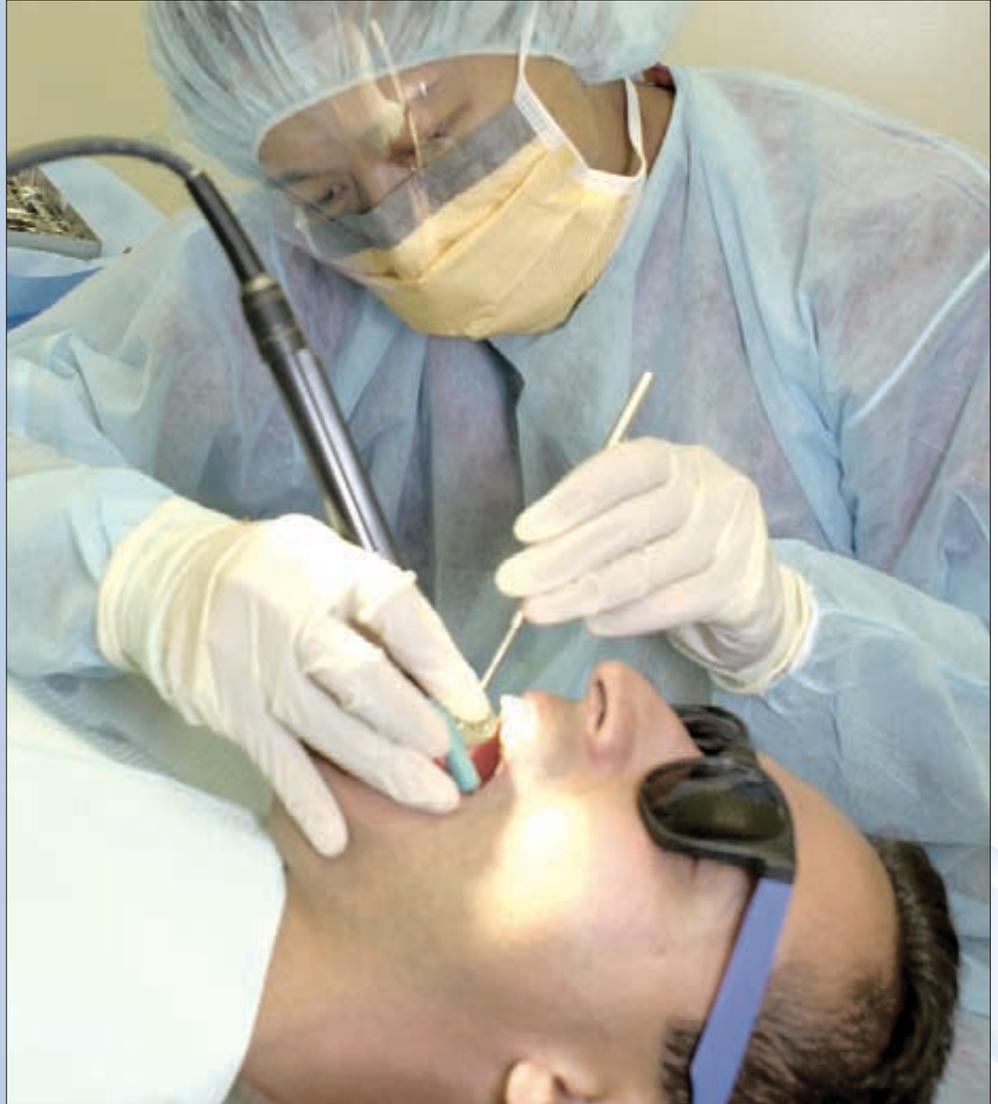

FIRST TERM AIRMAN CENTER

Located in Bldg. 1146, the First Term Airmen Center transitions first duty station airmen from training to a mission-oriented environment. This is accomplished through a standardized curriculum of 10 academic duty days with 57 different briefings covering mandatory in-processing topics as well as optional base and community information and some ancillary training. FTAC prepares new airmen to become mission ready in minimum time while providing the airmen with a solid foundation to make sound decisions.

56th Medical Group

56TH MEDICAL GROUP

The Luke AFB Hospital is a modern medical facility staffed to support 15 inpatient beds and provide a broad range of medical specialties to include primary and specialty care. The 56th Medical Operations Squadron provides inpatient and ambulatory clinical services including Emergency, Primary Care, Internal Medicine and Surgery.

Our OB/Gyn services are provided offsite at Del Webb Hospital, a state of the art facility located nine miles from Luke Air Force Base. This well appointed facility offers many amenities to support new parents. Including modern obstetrical suites, afternoon tea, a tv/dvd system, and accommodations for new fathers.

The 56th Dental Squadron provides active-duty people comprehensive dental care while maintaining the readiness of the 56 FW to respond to worldwide contingencies. The 56th Medical Support Squadron provides support services such as managed health care, resource management, and ancillary services such as pharmacy, radiology, and laboratory. The 56th Aerospace Medicine Squadron provides care for flying personnel and their families, as well as Military Public Health, Bioenvironmental Engineering and Wellness programs.

The 56th Medical Support Squadron provides support services such as managed health care, resources management, pharmacy and laboratory.

The 56th Aerospace Medicine Squadron provides care for flying personnel and their families, as well as Military Public Health, Bioenvironmental Engineering and Wellness programs.

UTILIZATION MANAGEMENT

The Utilization Management (UM) Office is responsible for obtaining health care active duty members may require outside of our military treatment facility (MTF). This includes referrals to civilian health care providers as well as aeromedical evacuation to other MTFs. Aeromedical evacuation is available to any eligible beneficiary seen in the MTF. Our Case Management (CM) section provides case management and medical discharge planning services to all active duty members requiring frequent medical intervention and catastrophic emergencies. CM also assists MTF enrolled outpatients and MTF inpatients with complex medical needs and/or durable medical equipment. The UM Office is located in the Business Operations/Beneficiary Support Flight in Bldg. 1142 behind the hospital and can be reached at 856-3468.

FLIGHT MEDICINE

Flight Medicine supports the flight line during flying operations. Provides primary care to aircrews and controllers, as well as their families. Maintenance and support personnel assigned to the flying and controlling squadrons are also seen in Flight Medicine; their family members are seen in Family Practice. Flight Medicine is responsible for the flying and non-flying examinations and Preventative Health Assessments (PHA) for those personnel assigned to their team. Force Health Management, Preventative Health Assessment Clinic, and Family Practice manage all other physical exams. The Flight Medicine Clinic is located in Bldg. 810 between the base gymnasium and the flight line. Call ext. 856-CARE (2273) for more information.

HEALTH AND WELLNESS CENTER

The Health and Wellness Center (HAWC) is dedicated to prevention and health enhancement. We have a number of prevention programs available to all active duty, dependents, retirees, civilian and contract workers. Programs include tobacco cessation, stress management, weight reduction classes, and food demonstrations. Individual nutrition and fitness counseling are available by a registered dietitian, diet technician, or exercise physiologist. We have a variety of health information and pamphlets available free of charge. Interested individuals should call the HAWC 856-3830 to make an appointment for classes.

The HAWC conducts a fitness enhancement program PHASE (Personal Health and Squadron Enhancement) for active duty members of the medical squadron who are enrolled in mandatory weight and fitness programs. Six sessions are held weekly at the track which focus on aerobic activity and calisthenics. For more information and to participate, call 856-3768.

DENTAL CLINIC

The Dental Clinic is located on the first floor of the main hospital directly across from the pharmacy waiting area. The specialties offered within the facility are general dentistry, periodontics, and oral-maxillofacial surgery. Dental staff members refer patients requiring endodontic and prosthodontic dental care to civilian dentists through the Military Medical Support Office. Routine dental care such as examinations, fillings, cleanings, and sick call for active duty are provided by appointment only.

Sick call patients are seen between 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. and 1 p.m. to 2 p.m., Monday through Friday. Call 856-CARE (2273) and press number "3" to schedule all appointments. Patients experiencing severe pain, swelling, infection or oral trauma (ex. split lip or tooth/teeth knocked loose) during normal duty hours, which are from 7 a.m. to 4 p.m., call 856-2273 and press the number 3 to let us know you are en-route. We will take care of you ASAP!

If you suffer these symptoms after duty hours, please report to the hospital emergency room. The triage technician/nurse will contact our on-call dentist to evaluate/treat your complaint promptly. Dental care for dependents is authorized on an emergency basis only.

PHARMACIES

The hospital pharmacy is open from 7:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. All prescriptions generated by the clinics and wards are filled at the hospital except on weekends. Call 856-2273 for more information.

Luke's Satellite Pharmacy, located across from the BX complex, offers a touch-tone refill call-in service, and a drive-thru window for pickup of refill prescriptions. Patients must call in their refill orders at 856-2273, or 1-800-637-9478 by 3 p.m. for pickup the following duty day. The satellite pharmacy is open 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., Mondays through Fridays and 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. on Saturdays.

The Commissary Pharmacy is also open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Mondays through Fridays and 9 am to 12 p.m., Saturdays for pick up of phoned-in refills. Call the Pharmacy refill line for further details. All Luke Pharmacy locations are closed for federal holidays and Sundays. All prescriptions and refills generated by off-base physicians are filled at the satellite pharmacy. Call 856-2273 for more information.

EXCEPTIONAL FAMILY MEMBER PROGRAM

The EFMP provides assistance and guidance to military families who have adults and/or children with special medical, educational or emotional needs.

CUSTOMER SERVICE CENTER

The Customer Service Center is located in the main hospital adjacent to the family practice area. It is used for "one stop shopping" regarding claims, health benefits, enrollments, general information, complaints, or hospital care issues. Their phone number is 856-7586.

56th Operations Group

56TH OPERATIONS GROUP

The 56th Operations Group, headquartered in Bldg. 997, has operational control and responsibility for the entire fighter-training mission at Luke.

The group is composed of an operations support squadron, a training squadron, eight fighter squadrons of F-16 Fighting Falcons and two detachments.

56TH OPERATIONS SUPPORT SQUADRON

The 56th OSS is responsible for providing “world class” support to the 56th Fighter Wing training mission.

Functions within the OSS include airfield management, air traffic control, intelligence, flight records, current operations, training, life support, weapons and tactics, plans and mobility, and weather.

56TH TRAINING SQUADRON

The 56th TRS's mission is to conduct academic and device training in accordance with major command formal syllabi for U.S. Air Force pilots upgrading in the F-16 Block 25/42/50, FAC-A and MANTIRN. 56th TRS also provides academic, simulator and live mission training for more than 75 upgrading weapons directors annually. All 56th training is conducted across six facilities on Luke and Papago Park military reservation, AZ.

This squadron provides Air Force acceptance and quality control of courseware, and manages all international military student affairs and aircrew training devices for the 56th FW.

21ST FIGHTER SQUADRON

Congress approved the PEACE FENGHUANG Program in 1992 under the signature of former President George Bush. PEACE FENGHUANG is Chinese for “Phoenix,” the mystical Egyptian bird that arose from ashes and is based on the fact that a similar program had been proposed but subsequently cancelled by President Jimmy Carter. The current program is in excess of $5.9 billion and is the second largest foreign military sales program in the history of the U.S. Air Force.

Training foreign pilots is not new to Luke Air Force Base. The first foreign students to train in the “Valley of the Sun” were Chinese pilots during World War II. In February 1942, the first Chinese pilots were trained in the P-40 Warhawk, P-47 Thunderbolt and eventually the P-51 Mustang. These pilots had a major impact in the defense of China. Many of these pilots became members of a Taiwan squadron designated 21st Fighter Squadron “Blackjacks.” The Blackjacks were one of the most successful squadrons during the war and were unmatched in their aerial victories against Japanese forces. Concurrently, the U.S. 21st Fighter Squadron was in the China theater attacking Japanese forces with the P-40 Warhawk and P-51 Mustang. It is in recognition of the exploits of both of these squadrons that the 21st Fighter Squadron “Gamblers” was activated at Luke.

The 21st Fighter Squadron began training Taiwan pilots in February 1997, 55 years to the month that the first Chinese pilots began training here at Luke.

In the spirit of the legendary Phoenix, the squadron rose from the dust at Luke to win the illustrious Frank Luke Jr. Award, recognizing the best squadron in the world’s largest fighter wing, in its first year of existence. That stellar feat was followed up by a repeat performance in 1998, the first time in 60 years that a squadron has won the award two consecutive years.

61ST FIGHTER SQUADRON

The 61st Pursuit Squadron (Interceptor) was constituted on Nov. 20, 1940. It was activated on Jan. 15, 1941 in Savannah, Ga., training in P-39 Aircobra and P-40 Warhawks.

The 61st later moved to Charlotte, N.C. in May 1941 and again to Charleston, S.C. in Dec. 1941 to help defend the East Coast.

In Nov. 1942, P-47 dive test pilots achieved 725 mph, faster than the speed of sound. In 1944 it was recognized as the first fighter squadron in the European theater to score over 100 victories. During 1943-1945, the 61st produced 19 aces, the highest of any squadron in Europe, destroying 248 aircraft in the air and 67.5 aircraft on the ground.

It was deactivated October 1945 at Camp Kilmer, N.J. and reactivated at Selfridge Field, Mich. training P-47’s while transitioning to P-51 Mustangs.

In April 1950, the 61st transitioned to the F-80 Shooting Star and later the first squadron to fly the F-86A Sabre. The 61st deactivated July 25, 1960 at Truax Field, Wis. flying the F-102 Delta Dagger.

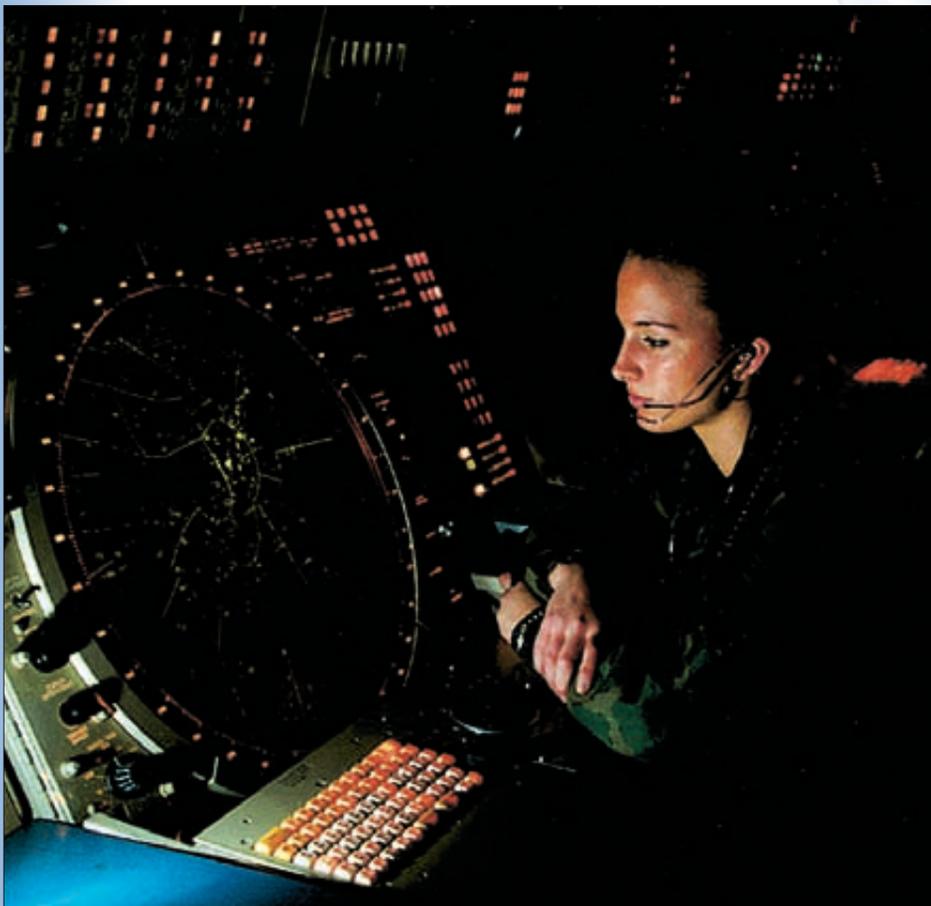

In June 1975, the 61st was reactivated at MacDill AFB, Fl., flying the F-4 Phantom (later the F-4D). In April 1980, the flying mission changed to the F-16 A/B Fighting Falcon. The 61st transitioned in June 1988 to flying the F-16 C/D and the squadron was deactivated at MacDill AFB in Jan. 1994, and reactivated on April 1, 1994 at Luke AFB, Ariz., replacing the former 314th Fighter Squadron flying the F-16 C/D Fighting Falcon. Their nickname is “Top Dogs.”

62ND FIGHTER SQUADRON

With American involvement in World War II looming on the horizon, the 62nd Fighter Squadron was constituted as the 62nd Pursuit Squadron as part of the 56th Pursuit Group at Savannah Air Base, Ga., on the 15th of Jan., 1941. The squadron immediately began training for its wartime missions, rapidly transitioning through the P-35, P-36, P-39, and P-40 aircraft. On Dec. 7, 1941, the 62nd stepped up to defend the Northeastern United States from anticipated enemy air attack while it converted to the P-47 aircraft and prepared to deploy overseas.

The squadron arrived in England on Jan. 9, 1943, and was declared operationally ready two months later and flew its first combat missions on April 13. Two years later, the 62nd had emerged as one of the premier fighter squadrons in Europe.

Among its accomplishments were the first P-47 ground attack mission, the first operational use of rockets by a fighter, and the destruction of 357 enemy aircraft. The squadron participated in the “Big Week” which secured allied air superiority, escorted the first daylight bombing mission over Berlin, conducted interdiction missions during the Normandy invasion, and provided air support during the “Battle of the Bulge.” On Oct. 11, 1945, the 62nd Fighter Squadron departed England and returned to the United States aboard the Queen Elizabeth.

As the newly organized United States Air Force developed a new mission, so did the 62nd. Flying the P-51 and P-80, the squadron performed escort duty for the Strategic Air Command bombers, deploying to Alaska and Europe in this role.

In 1948, “Spike” converted to the interceptor role, a mission the squadron would maintain until 1971. Stationed in the northern tier of the United States, the 62nd Fighter Interceptor Squadron flew the P-80, F-86 and F-101 on patrol against the ever-present Soviet bomber threat. A highlight from this era was the squadron capturing top F-101 squadron honors at the William Tell 1965, USAF Worldwide Weapons Meet.

On Sept. 1, 1974, the squadron began its long history as a fighter-training unit. Activating at Tyndall Air Force Base, Fla., the 62nd assumed the mission of training F-4 and F-106 weapons instructors at the United States Air Force Interceptor Weapons School. The following Oct., the flag moved again; this time to rejoin the 56th Tactical Fighter Wing at MacDill Air Force Base, Fla., and began training F-4 crews for tactical units around the world.

On Jan. 1, 1981, the squadron transitioned to the F-16 “Fighting Falcon” and continued to train fighter pilots until the squadron’s inactivation on May 12, 1993.

The 62nd Fighter Squadron was reactivated on March 18, 1994, at Luke Air Force Base, where it currently flies the F-16 Block 25 aircraft. Honors earned by the 62nd included two Distinguished Unit Citations, six Air Force Outstanding Unit Awards, and seven Campaign Ribbons.

63RD FIGHTER SQUADRON

The 63rd was activated Jan. 15, 1941, at Savannah Air Base, Ga., as the 63rd Pursuit Squadron. It was originally assigned to the 56th Pursuit Group, which, like many pursuit squadrons organized in the early 1940s, initially flew Curtis P-35 and P-36 Hawks.

A year later the 63rd came under control of the 1st Interceptor Command and switched to the Curtiss P-40 Warhawks. A few months later it was re-designated a fighter unit and began flying the new Republic P-47 Thunderbolt.

In 1943, the 63rd moved to Camp Kilmer, N.J., then to England where it became one of the most successful squadrons in the USAAF during WWII. Flying escort for fighter sweeps ahead of U.S. bomber fleets, the pilots destroyed 167.5 enemy aircraft in the air and 110 on the ground. After Germany’s surrender, the 63rd returned to Camp Kilmer until inactivation on Oct. 18, 1945.

A year later, it reopened with the 56 FG at Selfridge Field, Mich., and briefly transitioned to the North American P-51 Mustang. In 1947, the 63rd became one of the first fighter squadrons equipped with the new Lockheed P-80 Shooting Star. Three years later, North American F-86A Sabres arrived, then in 1954, Northrop F-89 Scorpions became the 63rd’s newest fighters.

The squadron was again inactivated on Nov. 1, 1957, and reactivated on June 30, 1975, as the 63rd Tactical Fighter Squadron at MacDill AFB, Fla. Its mission was to train pilots and weapons systems officers for the F-4D Phantom II. The name changed slightly, but the mission stayed the same when the F-16A Fighting Falcon arrived and the 63rd became a tactical fighter training squadron in 1981.

On Mar. 12, 1993, the 63rd Fighter Squadron transferred to Luke AFB, where it now flies the Block 42, F-16CG.

Campaigns the “Panthers” have supported include the Normandy Invasion, Battle of the Bulge, Remagen Bridgehead and Invasion of Holland. Honors earned by the 63rd include two Distinguished Unit Citations, seven campaign streamers and the American Theater Service streamer.

308TH FIGHTER SQUADRON

The 308th was constituted Jan. 30, 1942 as the 308th Pursuit Squadron (Interceptor) and was activated at Baer Field, Fort Wayne, Ind. The 308th ranks tenth as the most highly decorated unit in Air Force history among the 152 fighter squadrons that were ever active.

After five months of training in the P-39 Bell Aircobra, the unit joined the war in Europe when it was assigned to a base in England in June 1942. The squadron’s aircraft did not accompany the unit to England and 308th pilots and technicians spent a very short two months of intensive training in flying and fighting in the British Spitfire. The squadron became operational and flew its first combat mission on Aug. 18, 1942 when it attacked enemy positions in occupied France.

In Nov. 1942, the unit moved to Gibraltar and supported the allied invasion of North Africa. In Feb. 1943, the Spitfires of the 308th supported allied efforts which halted General Rommel’s advance on allied positions.

In July 1943, Spitfires from the 308th provided support for Allied Forces as the Invasion of Italy began with the capture of Sicily. As Allied bomber forces operating from Italian soil began the strategic bombing of Axis petroleum and communications facilities in central Europe and the Balkans, the 308th was re-equipped with the North American P-51 Mustang to replace the shorter-ranged Spitfire.

In Aug. 1944, the P-51’s were involved in the invasion of Southern France. In Dec. 1944, the first destruction of a German jet fighter by a 308th P-51 occurred. By war’s end, the 308th had earned two distinguished unit citations and was involved in eight campaigns.

The squadron again pitted its aircraft against an enemy when it was assigned to Ben-Wah Air Base in Republic of Vietnam. For its efforts in Southeast Asia during the period Dec. 16, 1966 to Oct. 15, 1970, the 308th was awarded the Republic of Vietnam Gallantry Cross with Palm. The 308th Fighter Squadron also won the Air Force Outstanding unit Award with combat “V” device.

On Oct. 1, 1986, the squadron was re-designated a fighter squadron and re-equipped with the F-16A and F-16B.

The 31 TFTW was the last active duty unit to fly F-16 A/Bs. The 308th was the first in the wing to transition to the Block 25 version of the F-16 C/D and subsequently to the Block 42 F-16 C/Ds.

The 308th was first assigned to Homestead AFB, Fla., and then to Moody AFB, Ga.; and on April 1, 1994, Luke AFB became the home of the 308th Fighter Squadron.

309TH FIGHTER SQUADRON

The 309th was constituted Jan. 30, 1942 as the 309th Pursuit Squadron. Arriving in England in May 1942, it was designated as the 309th Fighter Squadron and began combat operations after trading its P-39 Airacobras for the British Spitfire.

From Aug. 1942 to July 1943, the Wild Ducks spearheaded air offenses over North Africa and later participated in the invasion of Sicily while flying the P-51 Mustang. After the conquest of Sicily, the 309th began patrolling the sky over Italy and conducting bomber escort and ground attack missions during the two-year Italian campaign.

Following World War II, the 309th converted to the F-84 while at Langley Field, Va., and in 1948, completed the first jet fighter transpacific deployment. In 1957, the squadron transitioned to the F-100 Super Sabre and was re-designated as the 309th Tactical Fighter Squadron. The Wild Ducks flew combat operations in Southeast Asia from 1966 to 1970. While stationed at Tuy Hoa AB, Vietnam, the 309th proved their capabilities during all three Vietnam Air Offensives, including Operation Rolling Thunder.

Returning to Homestead AFB, Fla., the 309th traded the F-100 for the F-4 and flew the Phantom II from 1970 to 1986. In 1986, the squadron converted to the F-16 which it still flies today. The squadron arrived at Shaw AFB, S.C. in Aug., 1992, narrowly escaping the devastation of Hurricane Andrew and was later deactivated in Jan., 1994. After its arrival at Luke, the 309th was reactivated April 8, 1994.

The Wild Ducks produced 14 aces over the years totaling 161 kills between them. The 309th also received numerous awards, including two Air Force Outstanding Unit Awards, two Distinguished Unit Citations, one Presidential Unit Citation, and one Republic of Vietnam Gallantry Cross with Palm. In addition, the Wild Ducks participated in 18 campaigns from World War II to Southeast Asia.

The Squadron emblem is a 1944 Walt Disney production copyrighted design. It symbolizes the fighter mission celestial navigation pioneered by this squadron, its around-the-clock mission readiness, and its striking power.

310TH FIGHTER SQUADRON

The 310th FS was constituted Jan. 21, 1942 as the 310th Pursuit Squadron (interceptor) and was activated Feb. 9, 1942, at Harding Field, La., where it flew the P-39 and P-40 aircraft.

From Nov. 1943 until Mar. 1962, the 310th served extensively throughout the Pacific theater supporting Allied forces in World War II and the Korean Conflict. During this time, the squadron flew the P-47, F-84, F-86 and the Matador aircraft. In Mar. 1962, it was inactivated at Osan Air Field, Korea.

Re-designated the 310th Tactical Fighter Training Squadron Dec. 1, 1969, it was reactivated 15 days later at Luke AFB and flew the A-7D until its transition into the F-4 in 1971. The 310th TFTS transitioned into the F-16 in 1982 and became the 310th Fighter Squadron on Nov. 1, 1991.

The unit, which adopted its original "Tophat" name in Sept. 1987, has earned two Distinguished Unit Citations, Philippine Presidential Unit Citation, Republic of Korea Presidential Citation and nine Air Force Outstanding Unit Awards.

The 310th FS converted to the new LANTIRN (Low Altitude Navigation and Targeting Infrared for Night) F-16CG, Block 42 aircraft in May of 1989. As the Air Force's first and only full-up F-16 LANTIRN squadron, the 310th FS started formal course training in the new aircraft in Jul. of 1989.

In 1997, the Tophats were chosen to begin the first USAF F-16 Forward Air Controller-Airborne (FAC-A) training and to train F-16 pilots with Night Vision Goggles (NVGs).

They are now training pilots with MATIRN (Medium Altitude Navigation and Targeting Infrared for Night).

These capabilities are critical to U.S. Air Force combat airpower, and when combined with MANTIRN, make the 310th Tophats one of the most combat capable squadrons in the world.

425TH FIGHTER SQUADRON

Constituted as the 425th Night Fighter Squadron on Nov. 23, 1943, and activated on Dec. 1, 1943, the 425th was originally assigned to Orlando Air Base, Fla.

On Jan. 30, 1944, the 425th was reassigned to bases in California before arriving at its first European station at Chormy Down, England, on May 26, 1944. The 425th flew to its first home base on the European Continent, Vanes, France, on Aug. 18, 1944. Aircraft, men, and equipment of the 425th moved north along with the Allied advance against Axis, Germany, on May 2, 1945, just six days before "VE" day on May 8, 1945. During the air war in Europe, the 425th flew the YP-61, A-20, P-61, and P-70 aircraft. The unit flew and fought in support of the Allied war effort in Normandy, Northern France, Rhineland, Ardennes-Alaska, and Central Europe.

Between Sept. 9, 1945, and Sept. 1, 1946, the 425th was reassigned to various bases in California before being move to McChord Field in Washington. On Aug. 25, 1947, the 425th was inactivated.

On Oct. 15, 1969, the 425th was reactivated at Williams AFB, Ariz., as the 425th Tactical Fighter Training Squadron and assigned to the 58th Tactical Fighter Training Wing (TFTW) at Luke AFB, Ariz. The squadron's new mission with the 58 TFTW was to train aircrews from allied nations to fly and fight in the F-5. This training was accomplished at Williams AFB and also at bases in those nations. On April 6, 1973, the First F-5E Tiger II was delivered to the 425th and gave the air forces of friendly nations a capability similar to that enjoyed by Soviet client nations whose forces were equipped with the MIG-21.

On June 21, 1989, the squadron's F-5 training program terminated after having produced 1,499 graduates. The 425th was inactivated on Sept. 1, 1989. On Dec. 30, 1992, the 425th was reactivated at Luke AFB under the designation 425th Fighter Squadron. The squadron re-established its foreign military training mission by providing advanced weapons and tactics continuation for Republic of Singapore Air Forces (RSAF) F-16 pilots and maintenance personnel. RSAF pilots and maintenance personnel are assigned to the 425 FS for two years.

During their tour of duty they receive advanced tactics training, participate in Red Flag, shoot live missiles at Combat Archer, and deploy to locations throughout the U.S. to participate in composite operations and dissimilar air combat exercises.

56th Maintenance Group

56TH MAINTENANCE GROUP

The 56th Maintenance Group (MXG) was established as the result of an Air Force wide restructuring which aligned all aircraft maintenance functions under one commander. This new organization will ensure that Luke's Viper pilots will always have safe, quality F-16s when they need them. As the largest Maintenance Group in the Air Force, the 56 MXG consists of 3,300 members operating on an annual budget of $142 million to maintain F-16s and engines-assets that are valued at more than $5 billion. The 56th Maintenance Group also directly contributes to Luke's second mission: the training of over 3,000 maintenance technicians and 1,000 Mission Ready F-16 Crew Chiefs each year.

56TH AIRCRAFT MAINTENANCE SQUADRON

"Crew ready, rock steady" is the motto of the 56th Aircraft Maintenance Squadron (AMXS), the largest squadron in the 56th Maintenance Group. The 56 AMXS provides intermediate and flight line maintenance for 111 Block 20, 25, and 50 F-16 C/D aircraft. Manned with 865 personnel, the squadron's primary focus is to ensure mission-ready aircraft are maintained to support the training mission for USAF active and reserve component, Republic of Singapore Air Force, and Taiwan Air Force F-16 pilots. In order to accomplish this task, the squadron is divided into five Aircraft Maintenance Units (AMUs), which are associated with 56th Operations Group fighter squadrons. The squadron's AMUs are: 21 AMU "Gamblers," 61 AMU "Top Dogs," 62 AMU "Spike," 309 AMU "Wild Ducks," and 425 AMU "Black Widows."

756TH AIRCRAFT MAINTENANCE SQUADRON

The 756th Aircraft Maintenance Squadron was recently activated on Sept. 27, 2002 as an entirely new maintenance squadron. The squadron is responsible for maintaining over 80 F-16 Block 42 aircraft and resources valued at more than $2.5 billion. The 756 AMXS provides direct support for the Luke AFB mission of training pilots and mission-ready crew chiefs. Maintenance is accomplished on the F-16 to allow pilots to fly in multiple configurations, day or night. The squadron provides aircraft for Night Vision Imaging System training and enables the success of the only medium altitude navigation and targeting infrared for night and forward air control-airborne training squadron in the Air Force. The squadron's AMUs are: 63 AMU "Panthers," 308 AMU "Emerald Knights," and the 310 AMU "Top Hats."

56TH EQUIPMENT MAINTENANCE SQUADRON

The 56th Equipment Maintenance Squadron (EMS) provides an essential combination of both "on" and "off" equipment aircraft maintenance capability. EMS supplies intermediate and flight line maintenance, phase inspections, and delivery of aerospace ground equipment to support 9 F-16 fighter squadrons. EMS also provides complete corrosion control and aesthetic care of aircraft, flight line, and ground equipment, as well as structural stress assessments and fabrication of numerous aircraft parts. Additionally, EMS is responsible for the maintenance of armament systems and munitions support to all organizations within the wing.

56TH COMPONENT MAINTENANCE SQUADRON

The 56th Component Maintenance Squadron's (CMS) primary mission is to accomplish specialized maintenance of F-16 components, systems, and support equipment. This includes inspection, repair, and scheduled maintenance of aircraft propulsion, avionics, LANTIRN pods, pneudraulics, electro-environmental, egress, and fuel systems for the Air Force's largest fighter wing. Additionally, CMS repairs and calibrates test, measurement, and diagnostic equipment (TMDE) used by over 190 organizations on Luke AFB and throughout the Southwestern United States. The squadron also maintains engine trailers and maintenance stands necessary to accomplish its mission. CMS, with a workforce of almost 500, is organized into five flights: Propulsion, Accessories, Avionics, TMDE, and Programs.

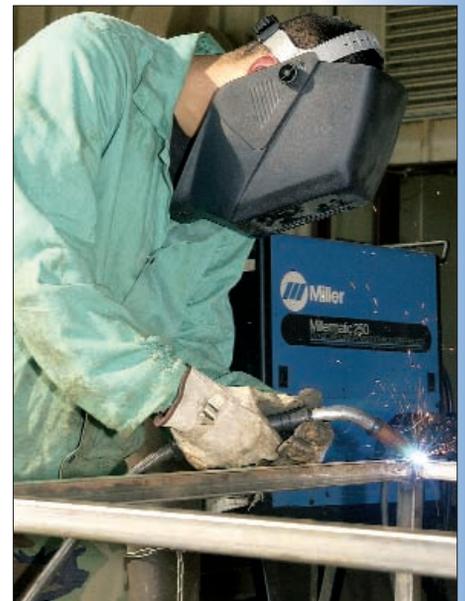

56TH MAINTENANCE OPERATIONS SQUADRON

The 56th Maintenance Operations Squadron (MOS) accomplishes many distinctly different, yet vitally important tasks. The 56 MOS ensures the health of a fleet of F-16 aircraft and provides extensive maintenance analysis data and plans and scheduling functions. The squadron also oversees the nerve center of all maintenance operations, the Maintenance Operations Center (MOC).

Several other critical functions include the collection, tracking, and forecasting of engine data on more than 200 engines and end of runway operations that provide the critical "last look" for aircraft prior to take-off. The Quality Assurance Office evaluates maintenance activities and provides feedback to key leadership and the Weapons Standardization (WS) section qualifies, certifies, and evaluates weapons loading and maintenance crews in the largest WS function in the United States Air Force. The extensive number of programs orchestrated by the 56 MOS ensures the success of the largest Maintenance Group in the USAF.

Tenant Units

THE 944TH FIGHTER WING

The 944th Fighter Wing is one of more than 50 flying units in the U.S. Air Force Reserve. It reports to Headquarters 10th Air Force, NAS Ft. Worth Joint Reserve Bureau, Texas.

The mission of the 944th is to augment the active duty force should war or national emergency arise. The 944th trains reservists for worldwide deployment during peacetime. Education includes mobility exercises for monthly weekend training. Each year, the entire unit is activated for two weeks to show active duty commands that aircraft, personnel and equipment are ready to support the wing's tactical and support missions.

The unit stands ready for rapid mobilization and has shown their flying skills as the first reserve fighter unit to fly operational missions with the coalition task force over Northern Iraq in support of Provide Comfort II and more recently Operations Northern and Southern Watch. The unit has deployed over 400 personnel and six F-16C aircraft to Aviano Air Base, Italy in support of Operations Deny Flight and subsequently Decisive Edge flying over Bosnia/Herzegovina enforcing UN Resolution 816.

The unit has been awarded the Air Force Outstanding Unit Award five times since its activation in 1987. It was also awarded the Best Reserve Flying Unit Award by the Air Force Association in 1993 and 2002 and has won numerous awards and trophies for its participation in Gunsmoke, the Air Force's worldwide gunnery meet held bi-annually at Nellis AFB, Nevada, and William Tell Air-to-Air meet at Tyndall AFB, Florida.

The 944th includes three groups, ten squadrons and five flights. These include the 944th Operations Group, the 944th Maintenance Group, and the 944th Support Group. The Squadrons and flights include: the 302nd Fighter Squadron, 301st Fighter Squadron, (associate unit) the 944th Mission Support Squadron, the 944th Civil Engineer Squadron, the 944th Security Forces Squadron, the 944th Maintenance Squadron, the 944th Aircraft Maintenance Squadron, the 944th Medical Squadron, the 944th Aeromedical Staging Squadron, the 944th Logistics Readiness Squadron, the 944th Operations Support Flight, the 944th Maintenance Operations Flight, the Military Personnel Flight, Services Flight and the 944th Communications Flight.

Additionally, the 944th Fighter Wing had approximately 100 reservists mobilized on active duty in support of both Operation Enduring Freedom and Noble Eagle. On 7 June 2002, the 944th Fighter Wing graduated its first student pilot class of six new F-16 active duty pilots.

DET 1, ACC TRAINING SUPPORT SQUADRON

Det. 1 systematically analyzes, develops, and evaluates training for ACC's major weapons systems.

They are the command's acknowledged expert in the development of Training Devices and Computer Based Training to support operational flight training.

Det. 1 is comprised of two organizational functions: the Training Systems Center and the CBT Division.

The TSC designs and fabricates aircrew training devices to meet unit-training requirements.

Training devices are custom designed according to user inputs and built here.

They vary in complexity from visual aids to complex computer driven trainers supporting our most advanced weapons systems.

The CBT division manages aircrew Computer Based Training Systems and develops interactive courseware for combat air forces worldwide.

Active duty, Guard, Reserve and oversea commands rely on Det 1 for quality aircrew training support.

607TH AIR CONTROL SQUADRON

The 607th Air Control Squadron conducts formal initial qualification training (IQT) for Air Control Squadron operations crew personnel in C2 tactics, techniques and procedures. Provides understanding of theater level execution and increased mission effectiveness through mission crew and aircrew interface. The 607th provides highly qualified Surveillance Technicians, Weapons Directors and Air Battle Managers for joint forces and theater commanders with a worldwide mobile command and control capability for the conduct of offensive and defensive missions. Graduates are capable of deploying anywhere in the world on short notice. The 607th is an Air Combat Command unit under the operational control of the 355th Operations Group, 355th Wing at Davis-Monthan AFB, Arizona. The 607th is the principal ground control radar support unit for the 56th and 944th Fighter Wings here at LAFB, the 355th Wing and 162nd Fighter Wing from Tucson, and other aircraft operating in local airspace. This 130-person unit maintains radar, communications, and computer equipment worth more than $85 million.

TRAINING DETACHMENT 12

Activated in 1962, Detachment 12 is the largest Training Detachment in the U.S. Air Force. With instructional hours totaling more than 61,000 a year, our 65 personnel offer 34 courses of instruction designed to educate, motivate, and inspire nearly 2,200 students annually.

Shoulder-to-shoulder, we provide F-16 aircraft maintenance training to hundreds of maintainers from the 56th Fighter Wing and those stopping through for training en route to locations worldwide. In addition to training the active duty Air Force, we also provide training to numerous International Students as well as to Air National Guard and Air Force Reserve units. What's also important to note, we deploy to help these units with their training needs and conversions to the finest state-of-the-art weapons system.

One of the courses we provide for the proud technicians at Luke AFB include the Mission Ready Airman AFSC awarding course, this course trains pipeline students from technical school on how to become the finest F-16 Tactical Aircraft Maintenance Specialist (TAMS). The other courses offered vary from training Aerospace Ground Equipment (AGE) technicians to training every other technician that maintains the world's premier fighter aircraft.

We maintain 21 Aircraft Maintenance Trainers and first-class training facilities totaling 64,000 square feet, all valued at $24.6 million. The staff uses new state-of-the-art computer technology to enhance course presentations and support digitized technical orders (TO). Our commitment is to be on the leading edge of technology to offer the very best education to those attending our facilities or courses.

Home to the only F-16 Aircraft Maintenance Trainer Development Team, we blend today's and tomorrow's technologies with quality instructional techniques to steer Air Education and Training Command, Aeronautical Systems Center, and Department of Defense Contractors to develop trainers flexible enough to support training commitments as the weapon system evolves.

Committed to quality, we accomplish a very demanding, diversified mission with the pride and determination of today's modern War Fighter.

AREA DEFENSE COUNSEL (ADC)

The Area Defense Counsel office is a tenant unit. It is attached to the Air Force Legal Services Agency and operates independently of the 56th Fighter Wing and the Base Legal Office. The ADC provides legal representation to active duty members facing adverse actions such as courts martial, Article 15 proceedings, administrative discharges, LORs, referral EPRs, and Reports of Survey.

The ADC office is staffed by one attorney and one paralegal. The ADC is an Air Force attorney, who is selected to fill this unique role based on litigation experience, aptitude, and military justice experience. The defense paralegal is usually a 5 or 7-skill level Air Force paralegal who also has extensive military justice training and office management experience.

The ADC is not in any way associated with the base legal office, or the command structure of the 56 FW to ensure zealous client representation and no conflict of interest problems. The ADC office offers complete confidentiality to its clients. Its mission is to promote justice through fair representation of its clients.

The ADC office is part of the USAF Judiciary Western Circuit, currently based at Travis AFB, Calif. The Chief Circuit Defense Counsel for all the Western Judiciary is the direct reporting official for all ADCs in the western United States. The ADC's representation and advice is limited solely to military adverse actions against active duty members.

The ADC is not available to answer questions concerning civil law matters or claims issues. The office is located in Bldg. 1150, Rm. 3015. Consultations are by appointment only. For emergency consultation during off-duty hours, contact 56 FW/CP at 856-5600.

AIR FORCE OFFICE OF SPECIAL INVESTIGATIONS

The primary responsibility of AFOSI is to provide major Air Force investigative services to USAF commanders.

AFOSI efficiently conducts thorough and professional investigations, which enable AF commanders to take appropriate judicial or administrative action based on the facts in cases of criminal or fraudulent activity.

AFOSI also conducts counterintelligence, anti-terrorism and personal protective service operations.

Because of today's peacekeeping role, the USAF is a primary target of hostile intelligence.

As a combat support organization, AFOSI is the AF's primary arm to counter this threat.

All special agents assigned work independently of base authorities, although not without coordination with the appropriate commander.

At times, investigative allegations can go and have gone beyond a particular AF facility. In these cases, AFOSI serves as the primary point of contact between the AF and other international, federal, state and local authorities, which might have an interest in or can lend support to a particular investigation.

This investigative liaison ensures complete and comprehensive investigative results for AF commanders. Assigned special agents are comprised of active duty AF and civilian members who report directly to the Detachment 421 Commander.

AIR FORCE AUDIT AGENCY

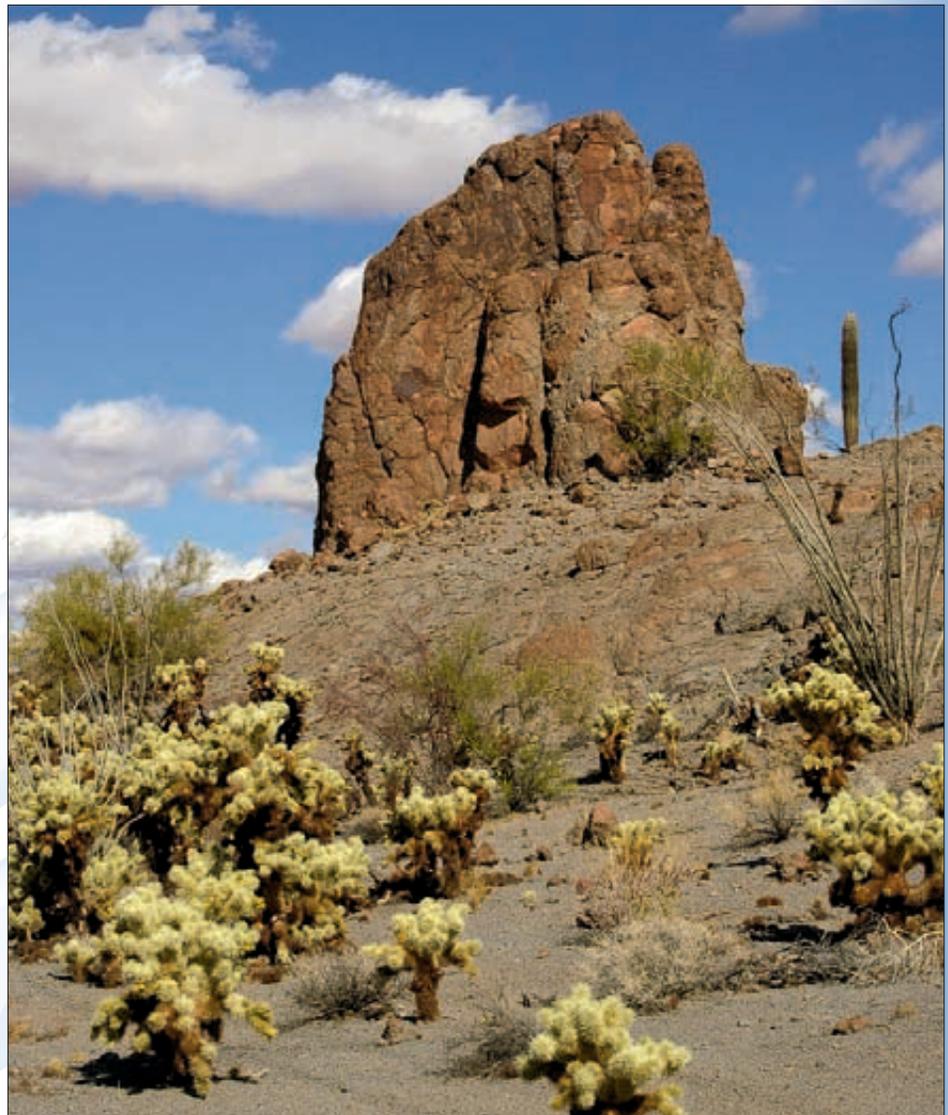

The Air Force Audit Agency provides all levels of Air Force management with independent, objective, and quality audit services that include:

- Reviewing and promoting economic, effective, and efficient operations.
- Evaluating programs and activities and assisting management in achieving intended results.
- Assessing and improving Air Force fiduciary stewardship and the accuracy of financial reporting.

GILA BEND AIR FORCE AUXILIARY FIELD

The Gila Bend AFAF is located 65 miles southwest of Luke and four miles south of the town of Gila Bend, in the Sonoran Desert of Southwest Arizona.

Its primary mission is to maintain the Barry M. Goldwater Air Force Range. All branches of the military use eight bombing and gunnery ranges, scattered around the 2.7 million-acre facility to conduct air-to-air and air-to-surface tactical training.

The Barry M. Goldwater Air Force Range has played an integral role in the flying mission at Luke since both the base and the range were constructed in 1941. In the early years, it provided training for aircraft from Luke and Williams Fields. During World War II, the range complex consisted of a ground gunnery layout of five aerial ranges, measuring about five miles by 35 miles.

Jurisdiction over the military detachment at Gila Bend fluctuated between Luke and Williams, and when Luke was deactivated in 1946, the military site at Gila Bend also was closed.

In 1952, the federal government took possession of a large tract of public-domain land for the purpose of extending the range. During the 1950s and 1960s, the facilities were expanded and modernized.

In the spring of 1963, the range's name was changed from William Bombing and Gunnery Range to the Luke Air Force Range. In 1987, the range was renamed in honor of Senator Barry M. Goldwater.

After the full-fledged advanced fighter training resumed at Luke in the early 1950s, the range facilities were modernized to provide technical advances in tactics, target facilities and aircraft. Today, three tactical ranges, each depicting a different scenario, and four air-to-ground station ranges provide excellent training for nearly 200 flights daily, including flights from Luke and other Air Force bases as well as Marine Corps, Navy, Army, Reserve and Air National Guard units from all over the western United States.

Fighter crews affectionately call it "the biggest shooting gallery in the world."

F-16 Fighting Falcon

F-16 FIGHTING FALCON

The sophisticated Fighting Falcon began performing the fighter-training mission here Feb. 2, 1983.

This multi-role fighter is equally potent in air-to-air and air-to-surface situations, combining advanced fly-by-wire technology with relatively low-cost production and maintenance.

Its maneuverability and combat radius exceed that of all threat fighter aircraft while operating in an air superiority role. In an air-to-surface role, the F-16 has an exceptional mission radius of more than 500 nautical miles, superior weapons delivery accuracy and excellent self-defense capability.

Because the F-16 is small, it is difficult to detect, visually or with radar, and hard to hit. The Falcon is only 47.6 feet long, with a span of 32.8 feet and measuring 16.4 feet to the tip of the tail.

The F-16's lightweight is achieved without extensive use of exotic materials or at the cost of strength. Structural capability allows full exploitation of the unique F-16 maneuver characteristics.

Design load limit is 9g's with full internal fuel, in contrast to other fighters whose limits are 6.5g's to 7.3g's with only 60 to 80 percent internal fuel.

The F-16's high thrust-to-weight ratio and low-wing loading permits it to outmaneuver any threat aircraft in the classic air combat arena and consumes a fraction of the fuel of an F-15 E Eagle when performing the same mission.

The Fighting Falcon provides a significant increase in combat capability with a lower investment in money, manpower, and fuel.

Local Area

HISTORY

Arizona's first inhabitants were Indians who migrated here 12,000 years ago across the land bridge, which once connected Alaska with Asia. When they were the only inhabitants of the area, the Indians lived in elaborate cliff dwellings, which often were as tall as a 10-story building. Many tribes, including the Apache, Hopi, Navajo, Tohono O'odham, Pima, and several other small groups resided near what is now Phoenix.

Spaniards sent from Mexico in the early 1500s explored Arizona. When Mexico declared independence from Spain in 1821, Arizona flew the flag of Mexico. Then, for $10 million Gadsden Purchase, the United States obtained most of the land that is now known as New Mexico and Arizona.

Arizona rapidly expanded after 1853, when ranchers and miners fought the Indians who felt challenged by western expansion. Disputes between settlers and the Indians grew year by year, and in the 1800s, 20 percent of the U.S. Army was stationed in Arizona.

When Geronimo was captured in 1886, the Indian wars ended. The economy was boosted with the completion of the Santa Fe and the Southern Pacific railroads in the late 1800s.

A period of the "Wild West" descended on Arizona when outlaw gangs and renegade Indians roamed large areas of the state. The colorful shootouts in places like Tombstone were common; the "Gunfight at the OK Corral" between the Earps and Clantons symbolizes the lawlessness that ruled the territory. The Arizona Rangers eventually restored order around the turn of the century.

Since becoming the 48th state in 1912, Arizona has maintained its proud heritage while attracting thousands on new residents each year.

Arizona is home to 21 Indian tribes on 20 reservations and has the largest number of Indian reservations in the United States. In 1940, the population was less than 500,000. It's now more than 5.1 million.

An extremely pleasant climate, vast natural beauty, and strong economical base make Arizona an attractive place to live and work.

GEOGRAPHY

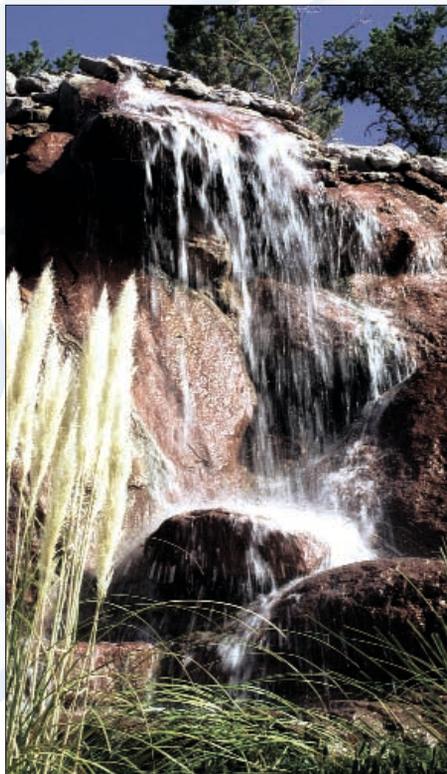

Arizona is a tremendously beautiful state. Arid deserts predominate in the south, and breathtaking mountain ranges rise from the desert floor in the center of the state. Northern Arizona has beautiful mountains, high deserts, and scenic canyons.

From the top of 12,633-foot Mount Humphreys near Flagstaff to the 70-foot Colorado River in Yuma County, Arizona has much to offer virtually everyone.

Popular scenic sites include the Grand Canyon, Hoover Dam, Painted Desert and Petrified Forest, London Bridge at Lake Havasu City, Sonoran Desert, red rocks of Sedona, Old Tucson, and hundreds of Western mining towns with varied and interesting histories.

Luke Air Force is located in Maricopa County, Arizona and is approximately thirty miles northwest of central Phoenix. Though several small rural communities surround the base, it was Glendale that annexed Luke as part of their municipality. The base is actually located about 10 miles from the city of Glendale.

Glendale is a dynamic and growing community located in the rapidly growing northwest part of the Phoenix metropolitan area (which is known as the "Valley of the Sun"). With a current population of over 225,000 residents, it has been one of the fastest growing cities in the United States for the past three decades. Only three cities, Phoenix, Tucson, and Mesa have more residents.

CLIMATE

Over 300 days of sunshine and low humidity create a very comfortable and active lifestyle for Phoenix residents and visitors. Nine months out of the year, Valley residents enjoy mild, spring-like temperatures. The average high temperature is 88 degrees Fahrenheit and the average low is 64 degrees Fahrenheit. Average rainfall is about 7.66 inches.

SCHOOLS

Students in Arizona's fine educational system traditionally score above the national average on high school SATs.

Phoenix area schools offer 80 vocational courses at the secondary school level. In addition, 130 private schools in Maricopa County offer an alternate choice for newcomers.

The public school system in Arizona is divided into elementary, high school, and unified districts. Elementary school districts include Kindergarten through eighth grades; high school districts range from ninth through 12th grades. Most of the existing junior high schools include just the seventh and eighth grades and are therefore in the elementary districts.

Some school districts may have one or more schools, but many have just one school. And yet, some do not even operate a school, but instead transport their students to a school in another district.

Each school district operates independently, maintaining its own student and personnel files, doing its own buying and hiring of personnel, and has its own salary schedule.

Those assigned to Luke have many opportunities to pursue higher education nearby. There are numerous educational and training facilities such as the American Graduate School of International Management, Arizona State University West Campus, Glendale Community College, and Midwestern University's College of Osteopathic Medicine. All of these institutions are leaders in their areas of expertise. Arizona State University is recognized as one of the finest educational institutions in the United States. Its enrollment exceeds 38,000. ASU also offers a branch campus, ASU West in Glendale.

The Maricopa County Community College system provides an excellent choice for junior college students. The many diverse colleges and universities in the area serve a variety of educational needs.

MEDICAL SERVICES

The Phoenix area has a rich array of major medical services, with specialized services for heart, kidney, head injury, and behavioral health care equal to any other major medical community in the country.

In addition to the modern and up-to-date hospital care, the Maricopa County General Hospital is recognized as one of the finest burn treatment facilities in the Southwest and in the nation.

RECREATION

Experience extinct volcanoes near Flagstaff, beautiful red rock mesas in Sedona, unusual rock forms at Granite Dells near Prescott, or deep canyon reservoirs such as Saguaro Lake.

The state holds two national parks and 14 national monuments, along with seven national forests.

Close by in Phoenix, Camelback and South Mountains offer great hiking with outstanding viewpoints accessible by car.

Visit the Arizona state capital or the Phoenix Art Museum, which has developed into one of the foremost galleries of the southwest.

Phoenix Civic Plaza Convention Center and Symphony Hall is an ultramodern complex, which is home for the Phoenix Symphony, and a must stop for road-show companies of Broadway productions and top performing artists.

The three state universities have outstanding art collections and "Artist in Concert" series.

Golf and Tennis lure people from all over the world to the Valley's many spectacular facilities and 25 private clubs. More than 1,000 courts and 70 public golf courses provide everyone the opportunity to take part in a favorite sport.

For fishing enthusiasts, the season never closes. The White Mountain Apache Indian Reservation produces giant catches. Lunker bass are found in Lake Mead, the Colorado River, and Canyon Lake.

Statewide, 260 official fishing areas are available in creeks, reservoirs, rivers, and lakes. Boating and water skiing are popular on Lake Mead, the Colorado River, Lake Pleasant, and Saguaro Lake.

Arizona ranks high in boats per capita in America—a true testimonial to the amount of water that abounds in the state. Skin divers prefer the Sea of Cortez, while hydroplane racers enjoy Firebird Lake. Surfing has been “making waves” at Big Surf, the world’s first inland surfing facility in Tempe.

Horseback riding is popular as well, with many stables in and around the Phoenix area offering horses on hourly, daily, and weekly rentals.

For those who enjoy spectator sports, the valley is the home of several professional and university-level athletics.

Arizona’s women’s NBA basketball team is the Phoenix Mercury and the NBA’s Phoenix Suns enjoy “home court” status at the America West Arena.

Hockey fans can see the Phoenix Coyotes play for the NHL and soccer fans can show their state spirit by cheering for the Arizona Sandsharks.

Professional baseball is well exhibited every spring, when several of the major league teams (including the Chicago Cubs, Milwaukee Brewers, Seattle Mariners, Oakland A’s, San Diego Padres, and the San Francisco Giants) enjoy spring training in the Valley. Phoenix now has a professional team of its own, the Arizona Diamondbacks, which threw out their first pitch in 1998 at the Bank One Ball Park.

Arizona State University is the proud home of the Sun Devils football team of the Pacific 10. And, the Arizona Cardinals is our home team in the exciting National Football League.

Racing buffs should look forward to the auto-racing events throughout the year at the Phoenix International Raceway. Dog and horse Racing tracks are also available (Phoenix greyhound Park and Turf Paradise).

In the old-Western tradition, rodeos are held throughout the year in the Valley of the Sun. Top-ranked cowboys provide western flavor and topflight competition.

Don’t miss the Japanese flower garden area, with its rainbow of color in hundreds of acres of cultivated flowers, on Baseline Road.

Nightlife in Phoenix is as varied as it is exciting - black tie or no tie, continental fare or cowboy chuck wagon. Rustic, elegant, or ethnic, the numerous Valley dining spots are cheered by gourmets.

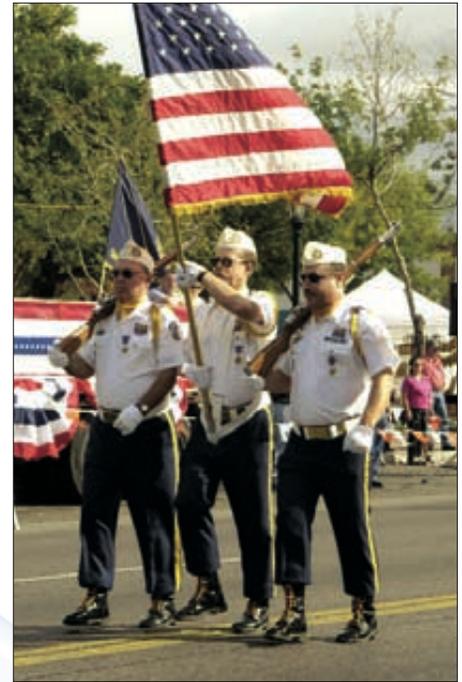

Performances, nightclubs and extraordinary views at night abound in the fine local restaurants, ensuring that there is never a dull moment.

The 56th SVS and its outdoor recreation program can provide a wealth of additional information to newcomers, detailing the many exciting events and opportunities throughout the area in the Valley.

The State

“Aleh-zon” is a 2-word Tohono O’odham Indian phrase meaning “little spring.”

Arizona is more than springs or mountains, deserts and forests. It is a state with a proud heritage, which offers unlimited opportunities for recreational enjoyment and sheer scenic beauty.

Arizona Facts and Figures

Arizona became the 48th state in February, 1912, which is how it received one of its nicknames, “The Valentine State.” Its other nickname is “The Grand Canyon State.”

WHY BUY

TOP THREE REASONS

Reason #1

DEPRECIATION:

At Budget, you pay only for the vehicle, not the initial depreciation. Budget cars look new, drive new, smell new, but don't cost as much as new.

FINANCING:

Budget offers ON THE SPOT financing! We utilize over 20 lending institutions to ensure financing regardless of credit history.

TRADE INS:

Budget pays top dollar for your trade in PAID FOR OR NOT.

"On average, the value of a new car plummets 28% in the first week after its sale."

-Harvard Business Review

Reason #2

RELIABILITY

Most of Budget vehicles go through a rigorous 70 point inspection process. If they don't pass, they go back to the auction.

BUDGET'S CERTIFICATION PROGRAM

Gives you peace of mind through:

- 90-Day, 3000 Mile Limited Warranty.*
- 70 Point Inspection.
- One Year Road Side Assistance Available. (Cross Country Motor Club)
- Budget offers up to 100,000 mile warranty.

"Certified used vehicles generally are late models that come with factory warranties and have been inspected and reconditioned"

-Automotive News

BUDGET?

Reason #3

SELECTION

BUDGET'S SELECTION IS SECOND TO NONE!

We carry nearly every make and model ensuring one stop shopping. We offer all the best brands:

TOYOTA • CHEVROLET • HONDA • FORD • NISSAN
DODGE • ACURA • BMW • CADILLAC • CHRYSLER
INFINITY • ISUZU • JAGUAR • JEEP • LEXUS
LINCOLN • MAZDA • MERCURY • MITSUBISHI
OLDSMOBILE • SUBARU • SUZUKI • VOLKSWAGEN

A MILITARY SALUTE TO SAVINGS

NBA ACTION AT HALF THE PRICE

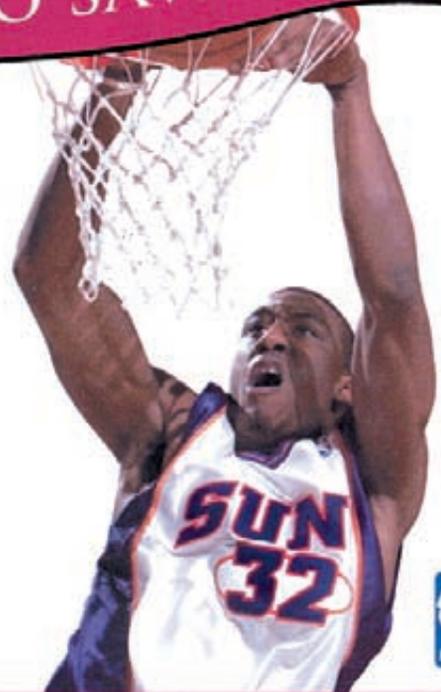

The Phoenix Suns salute the men and women of Luke Air Force Base and wish to extend their gratitude for their military service by offering a very special ticket offer throughout the 2003-04 season.

By simply presenting a military I.D. at the America West Arena box office, active and reserve military personnel will enjoy any upper bowl ticket free when another is purchased.

The Phoenix Suns are on the rise and hopefully you will be there to see them shine.

Countrywide leads the way as the #1 VA lender.*

Countrywide is the nation's #1 VA lender for a very good reason. We have over 30 years experience in streamlining the VA loan process. Recent changes in VA guidelines mean we can offer you more:

- No down payment required with full entitlement
- Loans to $240,000 with 100% financing
- Seller contributions allowed up to 4%
- More flexible income, employment and savings requirements
- 10 to 30 year terms available

Plus, your local Countrywide team of VA loan experts has the authority to say "Yes" to your loan. See for yourself why we're the "veteran lender". Call us today!

As a rule, military life is one of great sacrifice. There is, however, one exception to that rule.

When you choose a Taylor Woodrow home, you don't have to sacrifice a thing to own the home you've always wanted. For more than half a century, we've been building quality homes full of special touches and added features that allow homeowners to get the absolute most for their home buying dollar.

Larger lots, spacious floor plans, and attractive neighborhoods are always standard, along with other features you'll typically find only in much higher priced homes.

Visit a Taylor Woodrow community today and see how very affordable the perfect new home can be.

If you're looking for a home that will stand the test of time, first find a builder that can do the same.

Taylor Woodrow has been building homes in North America for more than 65 years. In that time, we've learned the importance of listening to our customers' unique needs, then responding with spacious floorplans and quality features that allow buyers to get the absolute most home for their money.

Our commitment to building quality homes and providing exceptional customer service has helped us grow to a global, publicly traded corporation with operations in 26 countries.

To find out more, visit www.taylorwoodrow.com.
And start your search for the perfect home – with the ideal builder.

WHY BUY

TOP THREE REASONS

PRICE

DEPRECIATION:

At Budget, you pay only for the vehicle, not the initial depreciation. Budget cars look new, drive new, smell new, but don't cost as much as new.

FINANCING:

Budget offers ON THE SPOT financing! We utilize over 20 lending institutions to ensure financing regardless of credit history.

TRADE INS:

Budget pays top dollar for your trade in
PAID FOR OR NOT.

"On average, the value of a new car plummets 28% in the first week after its sale."

-Harvard Business Review

Reason #2

RELIABILITY

Most of Budget vehicles go through a rigorous 70 point inspection process. If they don't pass, they go back to the auction.

BUDGET'S CERTIFICATION PROGRAM

Gives you peace of mind through:

- 90-Day, 3000 Mile Limited Warranty.*
- 70 Point Inspection.
- One Year Road Side Assistance Available.
(Cross Country Motor Club)
- Budget offers up to 100,000 mile warranty.

"Certified used vehicles generally are late models that come with factory warranties and have been inspected and reconditioned"
-Automotive News

BUDGET?

Reason #3

SELECTION
BUDGET'S SELECTION IS SECOND TO NONE!

We carry nearly every make and model ensuring one stop shopping. We offer all the best brands:

TOYOTA • CHEVROLET • HONDA • FORD • NISSAN
DODGE • ACURA • BMW • CADILLAC • CHRYSLER
INFINITY • ISUZU • JAGUAR • JEEP • LEXUS
LINCOLN • MAZDA • MERCURY • MITSUBISHI

As a rule, military life is one of great sacrifice. There is, however, one exception to that rule.

When you choose a Taylor Woodrow home, you don't have to sacrifice a thing to own the home you've always wanted. For more than half a century, we've been building quality homes full of special touches and added features that allow homeowners to get the absolute most for their home buying dollar.

Larger lots, spacious floor plans, and attractive neighborhoods are always standard, along with other features you'll typically find only in much higher priced homes.

Visit a Taylor Woodrow community and see how affordable life in a wonderful new home can be.

COMMITMENT

Standing the test of time.

Russ Lyon Realty has witnessed Arizona's sleepy times of the 1940s, the land boom of the 1950s, a recession in the early 1960s, the heyday of the early 1970s, inflationary times in the early 1980s, the real estate debacle of the late 1980s and tremendous growth in the 1990s and into the 21st century.

Committed to the highest level of service, backed by over 55 years of experience.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The 56th Communications Squadron (CS) provides telecommunication service at Luke AFB and Gila Bend Air Force Auxiliary Field (AFAF). Receipt of incoming collect calls is NOT allowed at Luke AFB or Gila Bend AFAF.

1. CARE OF TELEPHONE EQUIPMENT

Under no circumstances will the subscriber move, alter, or make additions to the equipment. IAW AFI 33-111, only the telephone systems maintenance personnel are authorized to move or transfer telephone instruments from one physical location to another. Telephone users are responsible for the proper use, care, and safekeeping of telephone instruments and equipment and are liable for any loss or damage thereto. Submit move/transfer requests through your Unit Telephone Control Officer (TCO) in accordance with para 10.

2. DIRECTORY LISTINGS

The Luke AFB Telephone Directory format is prescribed in AFI 33-111. All changes to directory listings should be brought to the attention of the Directory Clerk at 66110 or Telephone Services, 56 CS/SCXT at 67299 or email: 56fw.tco2@luke.af.mil

3. REPORTING TELEPHONE MALFUNCTIONS

Report all telephone malfunctions to 56 CS Maintenance Control at ext 64400, giving the following details:

- User's extension number and location
- Brief description of trouble
- User's name and contact number

4. LUKE AFB DIALING INSTRUCTIONS

- a. From off base to Luke AFB, dial (623) 856-XXXX.
- b. From on base to on base, dial 6XXXX.
- c. From on base to the local area, dial 99 + local area code + number.
- d. From Luke AFB to Gila Bend AFAF, dial 6XXXX.
- e. For DSN access, dial 94 + number
- f. For TOLL-FREE numbers, dial 99 + 1 + TOLL FREE number.
- g. For operator assistance, dial 0.

5. GILA BEND AFAF INSTRUCTIONS

- a. From Gila Bend AFAF to Luke AFB, dial 8 + 6XXXX.
- b. From on base to on base, dial the 3-digit extension.
- c. From Gila Bend AFAF to the Phoenix metro area, dial 8 + 99 + local area code + number.
- d. From Gila Bend AFAF to the town of Gila Bend, dial 99 + number.
- e. For DSN access, dial 94 + number.
- f. For TOLL-FREE numbers, dial 99 + 1 + TOLL FREE number.
- g. For operator assistance, dial 8 + 0.

6. DSN COUNTRY CODES

Europe	314-xxx-xxxx
Alaska	317-xxx-xxxx
Canada	312-xxx-xxxx
Southwest Asia	318-xxx-xxxx
Pacific	315-xxx-xxxx

7. FEATURE DIALING INSTRUCTIONS

- a. Conference Call. Parties who desire conference calls should contact the Chief Operator, ext 66110 to initiate their requests.
- b. Call Hold. For single-line telephones and those without a hold button, briefly depress the cradle button, wait for dial tone, then dial *79 and hang up phone. To return to the call, lift the handset and resume conversation.
- c. Ring Again. If a call is placed and the line is busy, briefly depress the cradle button, dial *78 and hang up. The phone will ring back when the called party is free. To cancel this feature, dial #78.
- d. Call Forward. If someone needs to forward calls to another telephone, briefly depress the cradle button, wait for dial tone, dial *70, then dial the number you want calls forwarded to. To cancel this feature, dial #70.

e. Call Transfer. To transfer a call to another extension, briefly depress the cradle button, wait for dial tone, and then dial the extension number. Once the number begins to ring, depress the cradle button again, people can either hang up or stay on the line to announce the call, and then hang up.

f. Three-Way Calling. To establish a three-party conference call, dial the first party. When the party is on the line, briefly depress the cradle button, wait for the dial tone, and then dial the second party. When second party answers, briefly depress the cradle button to connect all parties.

NOTE: Telephone users with the AT&T Merlin multi-line phones should depress the transfer button in place of the cradle button. Those using the Norstar multi-line system should depress the link button rather than cradle. Those using the Nortel or Meridian phones should use the Conf 3 button.

g. Call Pick-up. Call pick-up allows an end-user to answer incoming calls to another station within a predetermined call pickup group by dialing a Call Pickup access code * 74. If more than one call is waiting to be picked up in a group, the first call ringing is selected. One or more Call Pickup groups can be established within the system.

8. PLACING LONG DISTANCE CALLS

- a. Direct long distance dialing is authorized for OFFICIAL calls only. Contact your Unit Telephone Control Officer (TCO) for locations of telephones within your unit with long distance capability and guidance on proper documentation of long distance calls. If your phone number has the capability to use the Federal Telecommunications System (FTS), Dial 98 + 1 + area code + number. Call will be billed automatically to the extension. (Log the call on AF Form 1072).

b. Base extensions that are NOT authorized to place official long distance calls can call the Base Operator for assistance. Obtain a Control Number from your Unit TCO, then dial 0 for the Base Operator and they will place the call for you. NOTE: The Base Operator will not assist you unless you have a Unit Control Number.

c. Charging personal long distance calls to a base number or extension is strictly prohibited. Violators obligate government funds without authorization and will be held liable to disciplinary action under the provisions of the UCMJ (or federal laws in the case of civilians).

d. Headquarters Air Education and Training Command spends in excess of half a million dollars each year in toll call charges. It is incumbent upon each individual making long distance calls to limit the length of such calls to the minimum time required to conduct required business and should not exceed five (5) minutes.

9. MAKING INFORMATION CALLS

There is a charge on information (directory assistance) calls within the state of Arizona. Consult your Phoenix Metropolitan Directory for numbers within the metropolitan Phoenix area. If the needed number does not appear there, contact your Unit TCO to obtain a Control Number, then dial 0 and the Base Operator will connect you to the Information Operator.

10. REQUESTING TELEPHONE SERVICE

Installations, moves, terminations or relocations of all telephone services will be submitted to 56 CS/SCX through your Unit TCO. Requests will be submitted using an AF Form 3215 or using the online form. An individual who thoroughly understands the request should be the point of contact. The Unit Commander or TCO must sign as the authorizing official to ensure appropriate unit/staff concurrence and control.

11. PERSONAL CALLS ON GOVERNMENT PHONES

- a. Effective 21 June 1989, base telephones MAY be used for personal calls if: those calls do not adversely affect the performance of official duties by the caller or the caller's organization; are of reasonable duration and frequency; are local calls (i.e., do not incur long-distance or toll-call charges); and could not reasonably have been made at another time. Examples of such personal calls include speaking to a spouse/minor child or arranging for emergency repairs to a residence or automobile. Thus, base personnel may use government phones for personal calls, as long as they conform to guidelines listed above. This policy, however, does NOT extend to the DSN network.

b. Pay telephone stations are an AAFES managed concession and are provided at strategic locations to accommodate additional personal telephone calls not covered by the above guidelines, such as long-distance calls. Problems encountered with pay phones should be addressed to local AAFES personnel, 623-935-3581.

c. The Installation Commander allows the use of base telephones to place personal credit card calls. Most telephone companies provide credit card calling service that avoids the use of an on-base operator (i.e., AT&T, MCI, Sprint); these calls may be made by using touch-tone base phones, and do not incur a charge to the government.

12. CLASSIFICATION OF TELEPHONES

Government telephones are authorized for the transaction of official government business and require access to city toll trunks and Defense Switched Network (DSN) circuits for the proper conduct of such official business. This class of service (COS) is set up for your specific needs. For any changes, additions, or deletions to your COS, notify your Unit TCO. These changes must be submitted to 56 CS/SCX on an AF Form 3215 or using the online form.

13. REPORTING SERVICE COMPLAINTS

Telephone operators and maintenance technicians are instructed to be uniformly courteous and not to enter into controversy with customers. Reciprocal courtesies on the part of the telephone user will serve as an incentive for superior service for all parties. Complaints concerning service should be referred to 56th Communications Squadron Telephone Services Office, ext 67299 or email to: 56fw.tco2@luke.af.mil.

14. SECURE VOICE TERMINALS (STUIII/STE)

STUIII's or STEs are available on Luke AFB. Contact your unit's STUIII Responsible Officer for training and usage instructions. A STUIII Directory is available by contacting 56 CS/SCBS (Wing Information Assurance Office) at ext 63560.

15. COMMUNICATIONS SECURITY

The fact that any number of people can listen to your conversation is a SECURITY weakness of the telephone system. Talking around, paraphrasing, code words or nicknames, and incomplete references on the telephone are attempts to disguise information. Any person monitoring your telephone conversation probably knows enough to "read through" your attempts to disguise information. All base telephone facilities are not secure and any classified information discussed over these facilities may be considered compromised. Military owned/leased telephone systems are subject to monitoring. An additional problem concerns the ever-increasing use of speaker or "hands-free" phones. Callers are not always aware that the recipient of their call is using a speaker or "hands-free" phone. Thus, other people in the area may inadvertently overhear conversations intended for private use. To avoid such problems, anyone using a phone in speaker or "hands-free" mode should IMMEDIATELY inform the party on the other end of this fact. This will allow parties desiring a private conversation to request that, and will avoid problems of unintentional eavesdropping by other people.

16. TELEPHONE PRECEDENCE SYSTEM

Military precedence designators are directed for joint use and specify the relative order in which telephone calls should be handled based on importance (content) of the call. The highest precedence authorized for Luke AFB is IMMEDIATE.

a. FLASH - Reserved for alert warnings, or other emergency actions having immediate bearing on national, command or area security.

b. IMMEDIATE - Reserved for vital communications which (1) have an immediate operational effect on tactical operations; (2) directly concern safety or rescue operations; (3) affect the intelligence community's operational role.

c. PRIORITY - Reserved for calls requiring prompt completion for national defense and security, the successful conduct of war, or safeguarding of property, but not require higher precedence.

d. ROUTINE - Reserved for all other official communications.

17. GENERAL DESCRIPTION OF DSN

The Defense Switched Network or DSN is the principal long-haul, voice communications network within the Defense Communications System providing unsecured, direct distance dialing service world-wide through a system of government owned and leased automatic switching facilities. The purpose of DSN is to handle essential command and control, operations, intelligence, logistic, diplomatic, and administrative traffic.

18. RECORDING (LOGGING) CALLS

Each Unit TCO will ensure that all official long distance calls are recorded on an AF Form 1072. IAW AFI 33-111, TCOs must verify all long distance telephone calls against the long distance company's charges at the end of each month. Call details (billings) are forwarded to the TCO for each month. The TCO will verify correctness of the call detail listing against the AF Form 1072, and submit an AF Form 649 to 56 CS/SCXT by the end of the month.

19. MINIMIZE

MINIMIZE is a condition imposed by commanders to control and reduce electrical communications to avoid delaying messages connected with an actual or simulated emergency. MINIMIZE is imposed by a commander at any level within their command or area of command responsibility. The imposition of MINIMIZE warns network users to eliminate nonessential traffic so communications directly concerned with the emergency or exercise will not be delayed. MINIMIZE may be imposed on voice and/or data systems. Notifications of MINIMIZE conditions will be disseminated through administrative channels.

20. OFF BASE RESIDENCE TELEPHONE SERVICE

Personnel living in base housing and Phoenix metro area will call a commercial telephone company for new residential service. For termination of the service, check with your local commercial telephone company. For telephone troubles in base housing, check the residential white pages, front section for troubleshooting procedures.

21. REPORTING BOMB THREATS OR "NUISANCE" CALLS

a. It is unlawful for any person to make a telephone call during which obscene, lewd or immoral language is used with the intent to offend. Federal law further prohibits interstate telephone calls that are obscene, lewd, lascivious, filthy, or indecent, or where the intent, with or without actual conversation, is to annoy, abuse, threaten, or harass any person. It is unlawful to knowingly allow anyone to use a telephone under your control for the above purposes.

b. Anyone who receives a nuisance call should contact 56 CS Maintenance Control, ext 64400, and if a threat is involved, should also contact the Security Forces, ext 65970.

c. If you receive a bomb threat, do not hang up the telephone. Use another telephone to notify the Security Forces, ext 65970 and fill out the AF Form 440, Bomb Threat Aid. If possible danger to life or property is involved, alert everyone and vacate the area.
