What is BHOP?

The Behavioral Health Optimization Program (BHOP) is available to patients within the Family Medicine Clinic as part of overall good health care.

The purpose of this program is to offer assistance when habits, behaviors, or emotional concerns begin to interfere with your daily life. It is also provided to help patients who are starting or continuing on medications prescribed by the PCM for management of depression, anxiety, and/or PTSD.

BHOP does not provide traditional psychotherapy. This is considered a specialty function, and you may request more information about a mental health referral if that is what you are looking for.

Your appointment (in-person or phone call) will generally last 20 to 30 minutes. You can expect the BHOP to provide brief, solution-focused assessments to help you improve your target area.

As with all health care providers, communication with the IBHC or BHCF may not be entirely confidential. For Active Duty patients, they are obligated to report the disclosure of any information that may detrimentally impact the mission.

Behavioral Health Care Facilitator (BHCF)

This position is usually a registered nurse with specialty training in the Care Management Model. The BHCF will contact you by phone to check in on how you are doing with your medication for either depression, anxiety, or PTSD symptoms.

Support Patients Via Regular Scheduled Phone Contacts

DEPRESSION, ANXIETY & PTSD

- Referred by PCMs when you are prescribed medication for the above conditions
- Receive information about your chief concern and treatments
- Become motivated to be a proactive member of your treatment team
- Receive recommendations or suggestions to overcome treatment barriers
- Address any medication side effects
- Develop self-management goals with you

Internal Behavioral Health Consultant (IBHC)

This is a clinical psychologist or social worker with specialty training in Primary Care Behavioral Health who works as a member of the primary care team. The IBHC focuses on symptoms that may be interfering with your current functioning, and help you develop a plan to address those symptoms and improve your quality of life.

New Parent Support Program (NPSP):
The thrill of a new baby is one of life's most wonderful and challenging experiences. However, parenthood is the role we are least prepared for. The New Parents Support Program's goal is to ease the transition by providing education and support to parents during the pregnancy, birth and up through the first 36 months of childhood. The Family Advocacy Nurse or Social Worker provides home visits, telephone contacts, referrals and consultations. These programs are primarily for active duty or new or expectant parents and those with children ages 0-36 months. Retirees are welcome on a space availability basis.

Outreach and Prevention Services:
These services are to promote healthy family relationships through education and support. Services include: parenting education, anger management, and couples communication classes, special theme events for; domestic violence awareness month, teen dating violence awareness month, and child abuse prevention month. Unit briefings and trainings on family violence, prevention of maltreatment in families and Family Advocacy Program and services are available upon request. Anger Management Group covers several areas of discussion including: recognizing and controlling anger, learning to listen to others, feelings and communication, becoming an assertive person, and negotiating conflicts. Finally, the couples communication class (PREP) focus on improving couples communication skills, and enhancing intimacy in relationships. All couples are welcome.

Resiliency and Prevention Programs

Suicide Prevention Program
The AF Suicide Prevention Program is designed to raise awareness about suicide, strengthen the Wingman culture, and promote resiliency.

EMERGENCY CDEs

If you believe one of your members is experiencing active suicidal or homicidal thoughts you should proceed with the following steps:

- Strongly encourage the member to be seen immediately at the Mental Health Clinic (MHC) or closest hospital if after duty hours/weekend. If the member is willing to be seen voluntarily, Commanders (CC) should ensure the member is escorted to the evaluation.
- If the member refuses to seek treatment, consult with MHC. A Mental Health Provider (MHP) will determine if the situation warrants an emergency CDE.
- If the member is not willing to present to the clinic or a civilian hospital, please call 911 or Security Forces in order to ensure that s/he will be taken to a civilian hospital for evaluation.

A CC, a supervisor, or a senior enlisted member (designated by the commander) can order an emergency CDE. A supervisor is an officer within or out of a member’s official chain of command, or civilian employee in a grade level comparable to a officer, who: exercises supervisory authority over the member owing to the member’s current or temporary duty assignment or other circumstances of the member’s duty assignment; and is authorized due to the impracticality of involving an actual commanding officer in the member’s chain of command to direct an CDE IAW DODI 6490.04.

Once the evaluation is complete, you will receive same day verbal feedback and next day written feedback from the MHP regarding safety concerns.

A CC cannot order a member into a MH inpatient facility; only a MHP or physician with admitting privileges can involuntary commit.

ROUTINE CDE:

A routine CDE is useful when commanders have a military need to know of member’s mental status.

Things commanders should consider before initiating a CDE:

- Is there documentation of work related impacting problems?
- Has disciplinary action been initiated?
- Are you considering administrative separation?

Typical questions that can be answered by conducting a CDE:

- Is this person suffering from a mental disorder which renders him/her unfit or unsuited for continued military service?
- Is this person suffering from a condition which makes him/her unreliable or have questionable judgment for special levels of clearance (i.e. flying duty, carrying weapons, top secret security clearance, PRP, etc.)?
- Is mission effectiveness compromised by this person’s mental disorder?
- Is this person suffering from a condition which would explain his/her unreliable inappropriate behavior?
- What is the likelihood that this person could function effectively if treatment was given?

If you have this situation and would like to pursue a routine CDE, you should proceed with the following steps:

- Consult with the MHC to determine if a CDE is appropriate.
- The MHC will provide an appointment date and time, typically within 7 days.
- CCs will advise the member that s/he is command directing them for an evaluation and provide them with date and time of their appointment.

What is LPSP? The LPSP program is designed to assist members who believe they are under the stress of impending disciplinary action under the UCMJ. It provides limited protection with regards to information revealed in or generated by their clinical relationship with MHPS. While in this program, such information cannot be used in the existing or any future UCMJ action or when deciding characterization of service in any separation.

What does this mean? Once placed on LPSP, communications with the MHC are protected. In other words, investigative agencies including OSI, SFS, and JAG cannot use anything discussed with the MHC against the member in current or future UCMJ action or characterization for discharge. The intent of AFI 44-109 is that the added privacy will allow members who are under investigation and/or UCMJ action and who pose a risk for suicide to feel safe and confident with their MHP to talk about legal problems and any other related issues.

What are the limits to the privilege? This does not apply to other purposes authorized by law. Commanders or other AF investigators may access MH records to help decide appropriateness for security clearance, PRP program eligibility, etc. There are other exceptions. The MHP will report certain information to appropriate agencies or take action to ensure your safety or the safety of others.

These exceptions to privilege include: communications of child or spouse abuse or neglect:
- Threat/intent of harm to self or others
- Intent to commit a future crime
- Hazardous behavior patterns that can impact mission and safety/security of military personnel, property, or classified information

Alcohol and Drug Abuse Prevention and Treatment Program (AD ONLY)

The Air Force recognizes alcoholism as a preventable, progressive, treatable, and non-compensable disease that affects the entire family. The ADAPT Clinic provides prevention, substance abuse education, assessments and rehabilitation.

ADAPT Services:
- Substance Abuse Evaluation and outpatient treatment for active duty
- Referrals for medical detoxification and rehabilitation at local civilian hospitals
- Individualized Education via Alcohol Brief Counselling (ABC) sessions, for non-diagnosed clients.
Profiles

All ADAPT members diagnosed with substance abuse or substance dependence receive a profile:

- A profile is entered into the ASIMS system, using AF Form 469 Duty Limiting Condition report, indicating the member is not worldwide qualified.
- Profiles will not be released to allow for deployment, TDY or PCS.
- If the commander believes mission requirement overrides the medical needs of the member and deployment is necessary, the ADAPT Program Manager will advise the commander of the risks involved.
- Profiles are reviewed monthly by the ADAPT Program Manager to determine the appropriateness for continuation or termination (IAW AFI 48-123).

Purpose

- To promote readiness, health and wellness through the prevention and treatment of substance abuse
- To minimize the negative consequences of substance related mishaps to the individual, family, and organization
- To provide comprehensive education and treatment to individuals who experience problems attributed to substance abuse
- To return substance abuse patients to world wide qualified status or assist them in their transition to civilian life

Active Duty Treatment

Alcohol Brief Counseling (ABC):
- Comprised of education and prevention services, and an individualized change plan
- ABC provided by an ADAPT technician or Certified Alcohol and Drug Addictions Counselor (CADAC)
- All active duty members enrolled in ADAPT receive ABC, unless the treatment manager determines it is not warranted

Level I Treatment:
- Individualized case management, treatment planning, and counseling services
- Group psycho educational services
- Encouragement and recommendation to participate in 12-step recovery groups
- The length of treatment varies based upon individual needs, the member’s response to treatment, and progress toward treatment goals

Completion of Level I Treatment:
- Members continue to be encouraged to participate in 12-step recovery groups
- The member will be transitioned into the ADAPT Aftercare Program based upon the member’s history and risk factors, clinical diagnoses, psychological and/or physiological health considerations

Level II Treatment and higher:
- Luke AFB does not offer treatment beyond Level I
- Members needing more intensive services are referred to an off-base network programs
- Upon discharge from that program, members enter the ADAPT Aftercare program, unless the treatment manager determines continued active care is necessary to finish meeting initial goals
- Members are required to participate in 12-step recovery groups

Available Services

For Active Duty:
- Substance abuse assessment and education
- Level I outpatient treatment
- Flight medicine primary care consultation, referral to inpatient detoxification services, or referral to intensive outpatient treatment/partial hospitalization
- Aftercare Outpatient Counseling

DOD Civilian employees receive one initial assessment and referral service without cost

Retirees and dependents receive services off-base, as authorized in their insurance plan

Referrals

Self-Identification:
- Members are encouraged to seek assistance from the Unit Commander, First Sergeant, Substance Abuse Counselor, or a military medical professional
- Self-identification for assistance minimizes the potential for adverse administrative action

Commander’s Identification & Responsibilities:
- Commanders WILL refer all service members for assessment when substance use is suspected to be a contributing factor in any incident, or when notified by medical personnel (I/AW AFI 44-121)

Assessment for Civil Service Employees:
- Management can request an assessment/medical evaluation to be performed by ADAPT to determine if employee has a substance abuse problem

Treatment Team Meetings (TTM)

TTM members: Commander and/or First Sgt, Supervisor, ADAPT Staff, and consultation with primary care managers to guide the clinical course of the treatment

TTMs are held: Upon Level I Aftercare treatment entry and termination (and quarterly), network facility discharge, and upon program failure

Commanders often wear “two hats,” one is supportive and the other administrative

EVALUATION OF ACTIVE DUTY AIR FORCE PERSONNEL

The following is extracted from AFI 44-121, in order to provide guidance on when an ADAPT referral is appropriate:

3.7.2.1. In accordance with this instruction and applicable DoDIs, a unit CC will refer all service members for assessment when substance use or misuse is suspected to be a contributing factor in any misconduct, e.g., driving under the influence (DUI)/driving while intoxicated (DWI), public intoxication, drunk and disorderly, spouse/child abuse and maltreatment, underage drinking, positive drug test, or when notified by medical personnel under paragraph 3.7.3 of this instruction. CCs who fail to comply with this requirement place members at increased risk for developing severe substance problems and jeopardize the mission.

If you have any questions regarding the appropriateness of an ADAPT referral, please call 896-3194/7579 to speak with the ADAPT staff.

Central Registry Board (CRB) Information

CRB Training must be completed by all CRB members prior to sitting on the CRB. You will need this training prior to attending your first CRB. This is required for voting privileges. CRB members who do not complete the training are unable to vote at the CRB. Training is completed initially prior to the member’s first time attending a CRB meeting, then again annually.

Required CRB training is accomplished via the internet. The on-line CRB Training Center provides training that outlines the CRB purpose/procedures, roles of the CRB members, and explains the definitions/types of family maltreatment incidents encountered at the CRB meetings.

The CRB Training Center site is found via Air Force FAPNet:

https://www.airforcefap.af.mil/skins/affap/display.aspx?moduleid=d3be24c4-d631-48a0-a4b2-018a9c01c0f&mode=user&auth=LaunchMaterial

Opening the CRB Meeting

- A quorum of 2/3 of the 7 members is required
- All CRB members (including Squadron Representatives) must be certified (have proof of training in CRB and the new maltreatment definitions) prior to participation.
- The chairperson opens each meeting with a confidentiality reminder.

The CRB Process:

The Squadron Representative(s) (CC and/or first Sergeant) enters the room and sits toward the opposite end of the table from the Chairperson. The chairperson will ensure that Squadron Representative have been introduced to members of the CRB, prior to the beginning of the case discussion.

- The Family Advocacy Officer (FAO) reads the type of maltreatment and identifies the alleged victim and alleged offender while the Family Advocacy Program Assistant (FAPA) loads this information into the automated decision tree.
- The Chairperson asks the squadron representative to open the discussion by telling the Board how he/she heard about the allegation, what has taken place since that time, and what action (if any) has been taken on behalf of the family.
- The Squadron CC is followed by law enforcement reports, OSI, and JA regarding the details of the incident/allegation. The FAO then adds any additional or different information regarding the incident collected during the FAP assessment.
- The Chairperson then commences the CRB automated decision tree.

Who is Family Advocacy?

The mission of the Air Force (AF) Family Advocacy Program (FAP) is to build healthy Air Force communities by developing and implementing programs designed to prevent and treat partner and child maltreatment.

The AF FAP components:
- Outreach and Prevention
- Maltreatment Intervention

Outreach Prevention
Provides voluntary, free programs (with no documentation) which are designed to enhance family life by promoting wellness, safety, and support. All services are available to active duty members, spouses, and their children. Most programs are also open to civilians with base access. Programs include:
- Parenting classes
- Anger management
- Stress management
- Healthy relationship strategies for couples and singles
- Individual and couples therapy
- Family violence community education

Maltreatment Intervention

AF Instruction 40-301 requires active duty, civilian, and contract employees to report all suspected partner or child abuse to Family Advocacy.

When family maltreatment does occur, FAP intervenes to ensure all family members are safe and stop any further harm so the cycle of abuse is interrupted.

Treatment is provided in a variety of ways, which include individual therapy, couple's therapy, and parenting intervention. Treatment will often focus on recognizing signs and symptoms of stress, anger, and family conflict.

Domestic Abuse Victim Advocate (DAVA)

Resource for adult victims of domestic abuse in the military community. Services include:
- Emotional Support
- Safety Planning & Risk Assessment
- Connecting to Community Resources
- Accompaniment services to appointments
- Liaison to Commanding Officer

Family Advocacy Safety Education Seminar (FASES)

Educational class providing information on positive parenting, anger and stress management techniques, discipline strategies, and effective couple communication.

Goals:
- Enhance mission readiness by reducing family violence
- Promote healthy relationships and family functioning for those with maltreatment allegations
- Prevent escalation of family violence for families identified as “at risk”
What is Domestic Violence?

Domestic Violence is...

- A pattern of controlling behavior that consists of physical, sexual, verbal and emotional abuse. Creating fear is a major part of domestic violence.
- Committed by one intimate partner against another, including in current or former married or cohabitating relationships.
- A learned behavior chosen by one partner to control the thoughts, beliefs and conduct of their partner; the victim is forced to change her/his behavior in response to the abuse.
- Directed at a particular victim, but it also victimizes children, families, strangers and the community.

Domestic Violence is NOT...

- A one-time event; it is a pattern of abuse. It will not go away without help.
- An anger problem.
- Caused by stress, alcohol abuse or drug use.
- The victim's fault.
The Role of the Domestic Abuse Victim Advocate

A Domestic Abuse Victim Advocate (DAVA) is a trained professional who provides non-clinical advocacy services, supporting domestic abuse victims. The DAVA is on-call 24 hours a day/7 days a week to provide crisis intervention, safety planning, support, assistance in securing medical treatment for injuries, information on legal rights and proceedings, and referrals to military and civilian resources. The on-call DAVA will empower you to make informed and independent decisions to support you through this process.

The victim advocate …

- Is here to listen
- Is here to help you identify your options
- Is here to discuss steps
- Is here to help you discover your own strengths
- Is here to help you learn to choose
- Is here to provide support

If you, or someone you know, is experiencing violence or you fear you may become violent in your relationship, help is available. Call your local Family Advocacy Program or domestic abuse victim advocate for assistance.

What Services Can I Expect from the DAVA?

- Crisis intervention and non-clinical support
- Safety assessment and planning
- Information on the Transitional Compensation Program
- Coordination of emergency services; transportation, housing, food, etc.
- Assistance in obtaining protective orders
- Accompaniment throughout the medical, investigatory and legal processes
- Representation of victims' interests at Family Advocacy Case Review Committee meetings
- Information and referral

How can I protect myself and my children?

- Create a Safety Plan; A DAVA can help.
- Have an emergency kit with money, medical cards, checkbook, car keys, birth certificates and other I.D., pay stubs, medicine and important phone numbers.
- Plan an escape route out of your home; teach it to your children.
- Know your resources (e.g., shelter, transportation and money)
- Ask family, friends and others for help
- Call the police or have someone else call
- Get medical help if you have injuries
- Discuss available safety measures with the DAVA, including a Military and Civilian Protective Order

What are my Options for Reporting Domestic Abuse?

Armed, and Family members who experience domestic abuse are encouraged to report the incident to a DAVA to access the full range of supportive services, including:

Restricted Reporting – Allows adult victims the option to report an incident to specified individuals, such as FAP, DAVA, and Medical Providers without initiating the investigative process or notifying the offender's Chain-of-Command. The Victim will receive medical treatment, advocacy, and counseling, and DAVA services. The victim maintains control of how services are received and it allows for time to make an informed decision. The victim can change restricted reporting to unrestricted at anytime.

Unrestricted Reporting – Allows adult victims to receive the full range of advocacy services. A victim who desires an official investigation into an incident of domestic abuse should make an unrestricted report using the appropriate reporting channels, including the chain-of-Command, FAP, or law enforcement. Upon notification of a reported domestic abuse incident, DAVA services and FAP intervention services are offered. In addition, with an unrestricted report, a victim can request a forensic medical examination with a health care provider in coordination with a criminal investigation. This option allows the widest range of rights and protections to the victim.

Am I Eligible for Restricted Reporting?

The Domestic Abuse Restricted Reporting Option is available to Armed Family member spouses, and intimate partners who are eligible for a military-issued identification card and eligible to receive military medical treatment.

Are There Exceptions to Restricted Reporting?

Safety is of the utmost importance, thus exceptions to the Restricted Reporting Policy do exist to prevent or lessen a serious threat to the health/safety of the victim or others. Your DAVA will explain in detail the exceptions and eligibility requirements for restricted reporting.

• Savings and Investing

Please contact the Airman and Family Readiness Center to schedule this workshop by phone 623-856-6550.
*Unit tailored briefings can be delivered to address current concerns or trends. Training can include sexual assault prevention measures, available reporting options, and overview of support resources. Contact the installation SAPR Office at 623-856-4878 to schedule briefing.
Air Force resilience training is designed to sustain a thriving resilient Air Force Community that fosters mental, physical, social, and spiritual fitness. Air Force resilience training modules can be delivered by your unit Resilience Training Assistant (RTA). You can also request unit/audience tailored resilience training to be delivered by an installation Master Resilience Trainer. See below for current list of Resilience Skill sets and goal of each lesson. For a current list of RTAs or to arrange for a guest Master Resilience Trainer and unit tailored training please contact the Community Support Coordinator at 623-856-2716.

Counting Blessings-The goal of Counting Blessings is to build positive thinking, help you cope with the daily hassles and stress, and improve quality of life.

ABC-The goal of ABC is to examine how your thoughts contributed to your Reactions. ABC can help assess if you thoughts were helpful in the particular situation and can help you think about how to approach future similar situations.

Balance Your Thinking-Sometimes our thoughts can bias our viewpoint, leading to patterns of reactions that are unproductive. Balance Your Thinking allows you to examine the evidence and determine if you are missing critical information.

Check Your Playbook-The goal of Check your Playbook is to discover patterns in your thoughts or reactions that might interfere with your goals or productivity.

Good Listening and Active Constructive Responding-The goal of Active Constructive Responding is to express involvement, excitement, or enthusiasm about another person’s positive event. The goal of Good Listening is to make someone feel safe in speaking to you as a confidante.

Interpersonal Problem Solving-The goal of Interpersonal Problem Solving is to help confront problems in manner that still shows respect for the relationship. It lowers the intensity and makes it easier for two people to find a resolution to the problem or come to an understanding or compromise they can each live with.
Accomplishing Goals-Accomplishing Goals gives us a sense of purpose and a feeling of control over our lives.

Acceptance-The goal of Acceptance is to acknowledge that sometimes there are negative aspects of events you can’t control. Rather than avoiding, acknowledge the discomfort so you focus on taking action.

Spiritual Resilience-The goal of Spiritual Resilience is to promote an understanding of spiritual resilience and provide an opportunity for students to strengthen their spiritual fitness.

Physical Foundation: Fuel for Resilience-Our physical well-being is strongly linked to our resilience and emotional well-being. The Physical Foundation of Resilience focuses on healthy nutrition and sleep management to ensure optimal performance.

There is no charge or registration requirement to attend. Because the groups are subject to change, you are encouraged to contact Andy at 480-994-4407 to verify meeting times and dates. You can also go online to http://mentalhealthaz.org/support-groups/

The peer support groups are facilitated by trained mental health consumers and focus on adult 18+ consumer issues. Sponsored by Mental Health Guild, the support groups provide empowerment, support, information, education and socialization for individuals diagnosed with a mental illness. They are for those living with a mental illness and facilitated by peers. Family members and loved ones are welcome to come with their loved one to support them.
Clinic services for members determined to have a serious mental illness

In Maricopa County, adult members determined to have a Serious Mental Illness (SMI) and their families are served by one of four provider network organizations (PNOs). Just like us, all four PNOs – Southwest Network, CHOICES Network of Arizona, Partners In Recovery and People of Color Network – are local, community-run organizations. Together, we are providing high-quality, integrated health care for individuals determined to have a Serious Mental Illness.
